Wind Funnel Hits Fargo, 6 Are Killed

Twister Strikes Residential Area; Scores Are Hurt

FARGO, N.D., June 20 (AP)—A roaring funnel of wind swept a 100-block area of Fargo tonight, killing at least six persons and injuring scores of others.

Police Chief Walter Olson, who gave the death toll, said:

"We are dealing with a major disaster."

The tornado struck from the west at 7:40 p.m., end of the dinner hour, to topple homes about the diners.

The twister ripped through the northwest section of the city over an area about 5 blocks wide and 20 blocks long.

Appears Total Loss

Except for a house standing here and there, newsmen said the heavily-built residential zone appeared to be a total loss.

Olson said an accurate estimate could not be made because of the widespread wreckage.

"We don't know how many people may be caught in these smashed homes and they have to be covered, one by one," he told newsmen.

St. John's and St. Luke's hospitals reported more than a score of persons admitted for emergency treatment, some in critical condition.

Receiving stations were filled and doctors and nurses were placing mattresses in corridors to handle the incoming injured.

Appeal For Blood Donors

Off-duty doctors and nurses were being summoned by radio and there also was an appeal for blood donors.

Telephones were knocked out and reports from the stricken area still were trickling in over police and sheriff's radios.

Fargo is a city of about 40,000 in eastern North Dakota. The tail end of the twister was reported to have struck northeast of Moorhead, Minn., but no damage or casualties were reported.

Fragmentary reports came only from official radios as telephone service was knocked out by the twister.

Richard Rasmussen, Associated Press newsmen at the scene, said autos had been tossed about like toys, some of them lifted from the streets and plunged onto lawns and into homes.

All available fire, police and ambulance vehicles were ordered into the stricken area.

Civil Defense volunteers were called out to help officers comb the extensive wreckage for possible victims.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration said the blow knocked out the instrument landing system and the airplanes radio beacon service. The tower clocked winds up to 69 miles per hour as the tornado hit.

Ford To Marry

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP)—Edward Hastings Ford, entertainer famed as "Senator Ford," and Louise M. Grace, a medical secretary, took out a license today and said they would be married July 11.

Ford, a widower, gave his age as 70. Miss Grace, never married before, gave hers as 60.

Young Swedish Girl Elope Returns With Teddy Bear But Minus Page Boy

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—Blonde Christina Wennerstrom, 16, came back to the capital today clutching a big teddy bear but minus the Senate page boy with whom she took an 18-day romantic trip.

The goal of the trip had been matrimony but colleagues of the girl's father on the Swedish Embassy staff said there had been no marriage.

That was in line with information from Charles Town, W. Va.,

U.S. Said Ready To Cut Military Force With USSR

Stassen Indicates Agreement Depends On Ending Atom Tests

LONDON, June 20 (AP)—The United States asserted today it is prepared to reduce its armed forces to 2½ million men, without political preconditions, if Soviet Russia will agree to cut its strength to the same level.

The offer, which U. S. Delegate Harold E. Stassen presented to the United Nations Disarmament subcommittee, is dependent on reaching "appropriate agreement" on the cessation of nuclear bomb tests.

Stassen held out the prospects of American willingness to make two further cuts in the level of forces, but to these he attached political preconditions.

The two subsequent reductions, after levels of 2½ million had been in effect for about a year, would not be as low as the million or million and a half figure mentioned in previous Russian proposals, Stassen said, but they would be "substantial."

N- Hint Of Conditions

There was no suggestion as to what political conditions were attached to American reductions below the 2½-million mark. But informed sources said it is a safe presumption the United States would be unwilling to go as low as 1½ million as long as such political issues as a divided Germany remain unsettled.

The United States Army, experts say, has about 2,800,000 men.

The proposal would mean a cut of about 300,000 men.

The Soviet Union last January announced its armed forces had been cut by 1,840,000 men, but did not give the figure for the standing army before the cut. Best available estimates at the time placed it at 4,750,000 men. This would mean that the U.S.S.R. would still have about three million men under arms and would be required under the proposal to lop off another 500,000. However, the U.S.S.R. has substantial numbers of reserves which can be quickly mobilized.

Stassen's presentation today of what was called "the American position" was called just the beginning of an unfolding of the complete U.S. program.

Speaks 40 Minutes

"An agreement on ending nuclear tests and force levels were essentially all that was contained in today's 'package,' but there is much more to come," one source explained.

Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin listened intently and in an hour's discussion later asked numerous questions. He asked specifically whether the Western states had any reaction to report on his proposal of June 14 to stop nuclear weapon tests, and to base international inspectors on territories of states possessing atomic bombs to make sure that tests actually ceased.

Hope To Raise Nazi U-Boat From Sea

HAMBURG, June 20 (AP)—Salvagers expect within two weeks to raise the Nazis' most advanced U-boat from 90 feet down in the Baltic where it lies scuttled. It is a snorkel-type with especially powerful batteries for long underwater runs and was the only one of its kind in service when World War II ended.

Demos Charge Government In "Fiscal Mess"

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—Democratic senators today pressed Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey to answer charges that the government is in a "fiscal mess" and seriously vulnerable to a business slump.

Humphrey, testifying at Senate Finance Committee hearings on the Eisenhower administration's money policies, retorted that the Treasury is "in much better shape" than he found it in four years ago.

But Chairman Byrd (D-Va) demanded particulars. He read into the record a four-barreled, 500-word question, to be answered at Humphrey's leisure in writing.

It was actually a series of charges and assertions, painting what Byrd called "a picture of the most dangerous implications." It closed with a single line: "What do you think should be done?"

The Byrd statements were:

1. Congress will not renew the three-billion-dollar increase in the 275-billion-dollar ceiling on the national debt, due to expire July 1. The debt is within a billion of the ceiling, but officials say they may get by without an increase.

2. Higher taxes and mounting spending have left the country "dangerously" vulnerable to any business slump. A decline to the 1955 level of national income, Byrd said, would cost the Treasury 13 billion dollars of revenue and would "shake the financial foundation of this country."

3. A continued "debasement" of the dollar is foreseeable and, if prolonged, will bring "most serious consequences." The dollar is worth 49.8 cents compared with the 1940 value, Byrd said.

4. Higher taxes provide no solution. An increase would cause "great hardship and injury to the competitive enterprise system."

Humphrey, occupying the witness chair for the third straight day and running into stiffer grilling daily, agreed to submit an answer. Then Byrd yielded to Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.), known as an "easy-money man."

Kerr sailed right in: Was the Wall Street Journal justified in its recent editorial declaring that the government is "in a fiscal mess," that the Treasury is "short of money," and that a recent bond offering was a "flop"?

Humphrey protested that there is no emergency. "I've been in one crisis after another every day for four years," he told the Oklahoman.

Supreme Court Gets Appeal In Girard Case

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—The government rushed to the Supreme Court today with an appeal for permission to turn Army Specialist 3 C. William S. Girard over to the Japanese for trial on manslaughter charges.

It asked that a U. S. District Court decision barring a Japanese trial be overturned.

Public interest in an early disposition of the case, the Justice Department said, is so great that the high court should act as soon as possible.

Atty. Gen. Brownell and his legal aides were pressing for a decision before the Supreme Court adjourns for the summer next Monday.

Without an early ruling, the government said in its petition, "the overwhelming likelihood is that the United States will be unable to fulfill its commitment to Japan for several trying months, even though the Japanese government is very desirous of holding respondent's trial without delay and expects him to be turned over promptly."

Girard, 21, is accused of killing a Japanese woman on a U. S. Army firing range in Japan, where he was on guard duty, last Jan. 30.

In a decision approved by President Eisenhower, the government decided to let the Japanese try Girard. But U. S. Dist. Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy ruled against it on Tuesday.

McGarraghy enjoined the government against surrendering the Ottawa, Ill., soldier to Japanese justice, holding that to do so would violate Girard's constitutional rights.

McGarraghy's decision was a "clearly wrong," the Justice Department contended in its Supreme Court petition.

An appeal had been filed in the U. S. Court of Appeals here, but it was decided today to go directly to the Supreme Court in the interests of speed. Officials in both the Justice and Defense departments participated in the decision.

Egypt Arrests U.S. Scientist

CAIRO, June 20 (AP)—A high Egyptian police official said tonight that the leader of an American archaeological expedition has been arrested on charges of smuggling antiquities. He was identified as Charles A. Muses of Indian Hills, Colo.

The Egyptian official said Muses was detained this morning as he was about to depart from Egypt by air.

"An investigation is under way now in a hospital because Muses said he was ill," the official said. American Consul Larry Roeder was with Muses during questioning in the hospital.

The official said when police searched Muses' home near the Giza pyramids on the outskirts of Cairo they found an unlicensed pistol and $4,000 which he said had not been declared in accordance with Egyptian currency regulations.

UN Indicts Russia For Slaughter In Hungarian Revolt

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 20 (AP)—A U. N. investigating committee accused the Soviet Union today of indiscriminately slaughtering women and children in putting down the Hungarian revolt last fall.

In a blistering indictment, the special committee also charged the Russians deported thousands of Hungarians to Soviet prisons, conducted wholesale executions and set up a puppet government under Janos Kadar to rule without the support of the Hungarian people.

Moscow angrily denounced the committee as a vehicle for "U. S. Propaganda."

The committee made these additional points:

The will of the Hungarian people for independence has only been strengthened by the Soviet army's undeniably suppression of the uprising which cost between 2,500 and 3,000 lives.

What took place in Hungary in October and November 1956, was a spontaneous national uprising, due to grievances which had caused resentment among the people.

From start to finish, the revolt was led by students, workers, soldiers and intellectuals, many of them Communists or former Communists. There is no evidence to support Moscow's charge that the revolution was fomented and helped by reactionary circles in Hungary and "Western imperialists."

The uprising was not planned in advance. But it appeared Soviet authorities had taken steps as early as Oct. 20 to make armed intervention in Hungary possible.

Doctor Sends Hooper Family Bill For $1,500

MANORVILLE, N. Y., June 20

(AP)—The parents of Benny Hooper Jr., the 6-year-old boy who was rescued from a well five weeks ago, professed themselves stunned today after receiving a $1,500 bill from the doctor who attended the boy at the well site and afterward.

Dr. Joseph K. Kris, the physician who submitted the bill, said he was willing to confer with the parents concerning it but could not say presently whether he would reduce it.

He explained his position this way: "I had taken it up with my colleagues and the medical society, and they said I'd be foolish not to send a bill. The time I put in was eight full days and close to 100 hours."

"My time is worth $30 an hour. I think the bill was a fair amount to charge."

Dr. Kris spent nearly 24 hours at the well, supervising the administering of oxygen to Benny through a hose dropped into the well—a step regarded as possibly the major factor in keeping the boy alive until rescuers could dig him out.

New York, Geneva, Rome, Vienna, and London, the committee said it had been told some Soviet soldiers at the start of the rebellion last Oct. 23 showed sympathy for the Hungarians. Then Moscow rushed in thousands of troops in the early days of November to carry out the pacification of the country by force.

The committee said these troops apparently were Mongols and Tartars from central Asia, who had been told and apparently believed they were being sent to Egypt to throw back "Anglo-French imperialists." Some of the troops pointed to the Danube River and called it the Suez Canal.

Imre Nagy, leader of the government which was crushed by Soviet power, denied he ever invited the Soviet authorities to assist in quelling the uprising by force.

The grip of the secret police was loosened by the rebels. The committee was shocked by what it learned from witnesses who told of suffering inflicted on the people by the Hungarian secret police (AVH). The secret police were separated from the population by a "wall of hate" and became a state within a state, dedicated to the control of the people by terrorism and oppression. The Hungarian people now are aware of police surveillance and have a real fear and hatred of the new security police, which they identify with the old AVH.

The committee said consideration of the Hungarian question was legally proper. It refused to accept Soviet contentions that the U. N. was violating charter restrictions against taking up internal affairs.

Hungary Expels Air Attache

BUDAPEST, June 20 (AP)—Hungary today expelled the U. S. air attache here on charges that he improperly sought military information. At the same time Washington was asked to send a minister to head the reduced American diplomatic mission.

Col. Welwyn F. Dallam Jr., 39, of San Francisco will leave Tuesday at Hungarian demand. A note released today by the Foreign Minister said he:

1. Photographed airfields and military buildings in at least nine Hungarian towns.

2. Asked Hungarian air force officers for a description of the electronic equipment on Russia's MIG15 jet fighter.

3. Inquired of a Hungarian officer whether his army had a counter-intelligence organization.

4. "Set up a network of agents," tried to enlist a Hungarian officer in it, demanded information on Hungarian army and air force positions as well as the names of commanding officers and particulars of the MIG17, the IL28 and what the note calls without explanation "the Locator P20," apparently a radar device.

Eisenhower Plans Weekend At Gettysburg Farm

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—President Eisenhower plans to spend the weekend at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

The White House said today the President expects to leave Washington early tomorrow afternoon. Weather permitting, he probably will fly to the farm. Mrs. Eisenhower will travel the 85 miles by automobile.

The President and his wife plan to return to Washington Sunday evening.

UN Korean Forces To Be Modernized

WASHINGTON, June 21 (Friday) (AP)—The United Nations Command notified the Korean and Chinese Communists today it is modernizing armament for its forces in South Korea. It is doing so, it said, because of "complete disregard" of the truce agreement by the Reds.

New jet warplanes, capable of using atomic bombs, will be started for South Korea immediately. But a Defense Department spokesman said in answer to questions by newsmen, "At this time, no atomic weapons are being given to ground forces."

In making this answer, Asst. Secretary of Defense Murray Snyder said he could not explain this point any further.

A statement was prepared for Maj. Gen. Homer L. Litzberg, senior member of the U. N. Command, to deliver to the North Korean and Chinese commanders at Panmunjom, Korea.

That statement said that while the United Nations forces had observed scrupulously the provisions forbidding introducing of new arms, "your side has continued to violate the provisions" of the truce agreement.

The notification said that the United Nations has decided to modernize its weapons only "to restore the relative balance of military strength that the armistice was intended to preserve."

The notification also said that the U. N. Command "emphasizes the fact that the replacement weapons are being deployed for defensive purposes only."

The document listed four categories of violation by the Reds:

1. They have "introduced reinforcing combat equipment . . . in contravention of the provisions allowing only piece-for-piece of equipment worn out and destroyed at the date of the armistice."

2. They have "introduced combat equipment and weapons of entirely different types and capabilities from any" possessed by the Communists in Korea at the time of the armistice.

3. The Communists "have failed to report introduction of such equipment."

4. They have brought in new weapons at ports of entry other than those specified in the armistice agreement, where there was supposed to have been a neutral inspection of the equipment.

Received Sacrament

FUNCHAL, Madeira, June 20 (AP)—Virginia Gomes Pestana, 60, raced to the parish house to ask the priest to administer the last sacrament to her dying 80-year-old mother. Virginia collapsed with a heart attack and got the sacrament herself just before she died. The mother survived.

Young Farmer Slays Wife, Her Parents, Kills Self

CANTON, N. Y., June 20 (AP)—The body of a young farmer who killed his estranged wife and her parents was found early tonight in woods about a half mile from his abandoned automobile.

State police said Richard Cota, 27, apparently had killed himself. Bloodhounds led troopers to the body after the car had been found on a side road about 12 miles southeast of this northern New York village.

Cota's wife, Janet, about 24, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Duval Sr., were slain with a .30-06 rifle. Police said that Cota carried the rifle with him when he fled.

Cota had been released only last month from a mental hospital.

The shooting, in the Duvals' apartment over a garage, followed an argument between the Cotas.

The Cotas' two children, Martha 3½, and Stephen, almost 2, and a doctor who had been summoned to treat Mrs. Cota were not harmed.

Senate Votes To By-Pass Judiciary

Short Cut Decision Upheld 45-39 After Nixon Declines Rule

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—The Senate voted tonight to take a short cut on civil rights legislation—a decision that spelled a big preliminary victory for backers of the bill.

Over hot Southern protests, the chamber in a dramatic night session voted to by-pass the Senate Judiciary Committee, where Dixie members have bottled up civil rights legislation for months, and put the bill on the Senate calendar.

The vote was 45-39.

Fireworks To Begin

That means any member can move to take it up for debate. But when such a motion is made a real fireworks will begin. Southerners are in a position to launch a filibuster against the measure—a talkathon that could be broken only by exhaustion or by a vote of 64 of the 96 senators.

Thus tonight's decision, while a jolt to the Southerners, was strictly a preliminary one.

In ordering the parliamentary shortcut, the Senate overrode bitter protests from Southerners that the procedure smacked of "a legislative lynching bee" and would lead to "chaos."

But supporters of the move contended it was perfectly proper under Senate rules and was made necessary by the failure of the Judiciary Committee to act.

The issue came to a vote after Vice President Nixon announced he would not rule one way or the other but would leave it to the Senate's decision.

Nixon did say, however, that he regarded as not well taken a point of order raised by Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) against the unusual parliamentary procedure invoked by advocates of the civil rights bill.

Override Vote

The showdown vote came on whether or not to sustain Russell's point of order. The Senate voted to override it, with the result that the civil rights bill went to the calendar.

Voting to put the bill on the calendar were 34 Republicans and 11 Democrats. Voting to send it to the Judiciary Committee were 34 Democrats and five Republicans.

After their victory, the advocates of the civil rights bill nailed it down with a 49-36 vote to table a motion to reconsider the previous vote.

Nixon's statement capped nearly six hours of debate on a move by a coalition of Republicans and northern Democrats to force action on the legislation and bypass the Senate Judiciary Committee, where a companion measure has been stalled for months.

The move to bypass the Judiciary Committee and put the bill directly on the senate calendar was initiated by Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California.

Permits Action

Knowland contended that the Senate's Rule 14 permits a bill already passed by the House to be placed on the Senate calendar for action without reference to a committee.

Russell raised a point of order, disputing this. He said Rule 14 had been "superseded and annulled" by the Congressional reorganization Act of 1946. He said (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Navy Probes Carrier Blast

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 20 (AP)—A Navy board of investigation surveyed damage from an exploding pump deep in the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt today while three of the injured crewmen told of their experiences in a steam-filled compartment of the ship.

Two men died when scalding steam spewed from the damaged lines and five others were brought to a Navy hospital here for treatment of burns. Three were improved today, one was still in serious condition and the other was listed as critical.

Capt. T. W. Hopkins said the carrier was on a routine training exercise about 100 miles off the Florida coast when the accident occurred shortly after noon yesterday.

The dead were listed as Bobby E. Hyder, 22, boiler attendant third class of Spartansburg, S.C., and Sidney Wall, 20, fireman of Norwood, S.C.

Twenty-nine other crewmen were stricken with heat prostration or exhaustion, many of them in efforts to rescue trapped comrades. They were discharged after treatment and the Navy said they were on duty today.

About three miles of laundry are hung on lines by the average housewife each year.

Ships Collision Death Toll 13; Sailor Missing

BREST, France, June 20 (AP)—The death toll in the flaming collision of an American-owned tanker and a Greek freighter off Brittany mounted to 13 today. Another sailor was listed as missing.

Two sailors died in a hospital here of injuries suffered in the collision yesterday during a blinding fog of the 15,000-ton tanker Stony Point and the Greek freighter Ioannis. The French Maritime Service had previously identified the Ioannis as a tanker.

More than 50 crewmen were rescued despite the fog which hampered operations. The tanker and the vessel collided near the Isle of Ushant.

Hoffa Delay Plea Denied

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—Selection of a jury proceeded today in the conspiracy-bribery trial of James R. Hoffa, Midwest leader of the Teamsters Union after he lost a plea for delay.

Hoffa is being tried in U.S. District Court on charges that he and codefendant Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami attorney, tried to plant a spy on the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee staff.

Attorneys for Hoffa and Fischbach asked the U. S. Court of Appeals to delay their trial on two grounds. One was that Hoffa's counsel, Edward Bennett Williams, required more time for preparation because he had been occupied with other court work through last Friday. The other was that an "avalanche of publicity" about labor racketeering makes it impossible to seat a fair and impartial jury now.

The Court of Appeals, after hearing the delay pleas this morning, turned them down without comment.

Because of other court work this morning, the Hoffa trial was in recess. Examination of prospective jurors got under way again when it resumed at 2 p.m.

Added Funds Are Voted For Post Office

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee voted today to give the Post Office Department 89 per cent of the extra money Postmaster General Summerfield says it needs.

Whereas Summerfield had asked for 149½ million more than the $3,192,000,000 appropriation set up for the fiscal year beginning July 1, the committee recommended 133 million.

The 16½ million the committee cut in Summerfield's request would be made up as follows: 11½ million in operating funds, 3 million for transportation and 2 million for facilities.

Summerfield has said he needs 149½ million extra because of a large increase in volume of mail, which exceeded expectations of just a few months ago.

The House is expected to go along with the committee's recommendations when it considers the supplemental money bill next week.

Summerfield has said he would have to reduce services if he did not get the money he asked for. The committee suggested today the department could trim here and there, and live within its budget "adequately and effectively."

On the question of cutting down on Saturday deliveries of mail in cities, the committee suggested that the department effect such reductions "as are in keeping with the pattern of business, industry and suburbia generally."

It said other savings might be possible to suspend money order sales in some offices and by holding star route deliveries to one daily, where practicable. On star routes, mail is transported by contractors between larger post offices and smaller ones, and between post offices and rail terminals.

The committee also said the department could well increase its revenue by charging for third-class, bulk mail on a zone or distance basis. It said this would bring in an extra five million dollars.

The evening of June 23 is a holiday for Norsemens, set aside to welcome the warmth of summer with bonfires. It is called St. John's Eve or Mid-summer Eve.

Senate Votes

(Continued from Page 1) act requires that all House bills be referred to committee for consideration before they can be brought to the floor for Senate action.

The Senate Judiciary Committee has not yet reported out a civil rights bill which a subcommittee approved last March 19. This bill, like the administration bill passed by the House, would set up new federal procedure for dealing with complaints that Negroes' civil rights are abridged in the South.

W.Va. Forestry Camp Needed

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 20 (AP)—A legislative study group asked President Theodore T. Dorman of the Board of Control today to provide specific recommendations for better use of institutions under his agency's jurisdiction.

His information will include cost estimates, and Dorman, along with Mental Health Director William B. Rossman, will be invited to the next session of the subcommittee on institutions.

Among ideas Dorman handed the committee today included these:

1. Establishment of a second forestry camp for youthful law breakers, possibly at McKendree in Fayette County where the Board of Control last year abandoned a home for the aged and infirm.

2. Reclassification of Hopemont Sanitarium near Terra Alta as a center for treatment of mentally ill tuberculars, and transfer of present Hopemont patients to Pinecrest Sanitarium at Beckley.

3. Construction of a rapid treatment center for mentally ill persons with funds appropriated last March for expansion of facilities at present mental institutions.

The study group set no date for its next meeting, but said any decisions it reaches will go to the Legislature's Joint Committee on Government and Finance for perusal.

Dorman said that the state's lone forestry camp at Blackwater Falls in Tucker County has become so popular with West Virginia judges that it is filled and has a waiting list.

The federal Civil Defense administration is charged with the responsibility of minimizing the effects of enemy attacks on persons and property.

Rocket Plane Hit Altitude Of 24 Miles

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—The Air Force has finally announced the altitude mark set by the ill-fated Bell X2 rocket plane—126,200 feet or almost 24 miles.

Although it was widely reported shortly after the flight last August that Capt. Iven Kincheloe had exceeded 126,000 feet in the craft, the Air Force hitherto had refused to confirm or deny it.

However, Lt. Gen. Thomas S. Power, commander of the Air Research and Development Command and soon to take over from Gen. Curtis E. LeMay as chief of the Strategic Air Command, said in a speech last night in Los Angeles he could confirm that Kincheloe attained 126,200 feet.

Powerful British Engine Available

HAGERSTOWN, June 20 (AP)—Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corp. announced today that an even more powerful British engine has been made available for its F27 propjet transport.

R. James Pfeifer, Fairchild's executive director of customer relations, said the new engines will be available starting in January, 1959, and will considerably increase takeoff and load-carrying capacity.

He said they will boost the F27S cruising speed from 280 m.p.h. to 300 m.p.h. and will increase its maximum rate of climb from 1,480 feet a minute to 1,770 feet a minute.

Most of the collars and cuffs made in the United States come from Troy, N. Y.

U.S. Prisoners In Japan Have An Easy Life

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
YOKOSUKA, Japan, June 20 (AP)—If William S. Girard is convicted in a Japanese court he will serve time in a cell equipped with radio and running water. He will eat a Western diet and play baseball if he wants to.

That is the life now being led in the prison here by 33 U. S. servicemen convicted by Japanese courts for off duty offenses. Their trials were held under the same agreement which Japan claims gives it the right to try Girard for the killing of a Japanese woman on a U. S. Army firing range.

A Japanese military jail renovated for Americans at Japanese expense, Yokosuka Prison lies inside a 15-foot wall 30 miles south of Tokyo. All U. S. servicemen sentenced by Japanese courts come here.

U. S. military liaison officers make regular checks. They say the food is good, plentiful, and "more nourishing than necessary."

A noon meal, being prepared when this reporter toured the prison, included soup, a medium-size hamburger steak, home-fried potatoes, lettuce salad, sliced onions and as much enriched bread as the prisoners wanted.

The men live in private cells, or double if they wish. A radio speaker, tuned to the English-language Far East network, plays 4 1/2 hours a day. Each cell has a toilet and wash basin.

The wood floor, painted cells are centrally heated, a luxury not found in the warden's office or even in the Ministry of Justice building.

Dressed in blue fatigues, the men work daily shifts in a small box making plant, a furniture shop, radio repair room or shoe repair shop.

Thirty-one are serving terms for robbery, robbery and injury, manslaughter, rape, attempted rape, or assault. Average sentence is three to five years. Some are only six months.

Two airmen convicted of murder and robbery are serving 15-year terms. They could be paroled in five years since any Japanese sentence can be cut by two-thirds for good behavior.

Workshops are closed on every American holiday and six Japanese holidays a year.

Two full-time physicians check the inmates' health, and a dentist is available. Any man seriously ill is taken to a U. S. Navy hospital.

When a plane hits supersonic speed, its speed is measured by the prefix Mach. Mach was the name of Ernst Mach, a Czech-born German physicist who contributed to the study of sound.

Merger Accomplishes Impossible

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

And so, the can't-be-done is done. The far-fetched vision becomes a reality, the fancy a fact.

That is the story of a remarkable church merger which takes place next week.

It involves a coupling of churches' forces, of a kind and in a way heretofore unachieved in this country.

The event is the merger of the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

They'll become the United Church of Christ—a singularly new creature in the realm of American Protestantism.

The step, says Dr. Douglas Horton, president of Harvard Divinity School, has "unusual symbolic significance for American Christendom."

Numerous major church mergers have occurred in this country, but they have involved groups of closely linked pasts and similar organizational structure.

This new one is different. It joins a denomination of "free churches" (Congregational Christians) and the more centrally administered E. and R. Church.

It represents a breakthrough of historic denominational barriers that until now have stood virtually impassable. It cuts across family lines of Protestantism.

The Rev. Dr. James E. Wagner, president of the E. and R. Church, said the union will demonstrate "that the present multiplicity of division among Protestant Christians need not continue without remedy."

The plan to unite the two churches, with their differing operational methods, has gone through a long, persistent and sometimes bitter struggle.

Its culmination comes after 17 years of effort, debate and planning.

A segment of the Congregational Christian Churches which has opposed the merger in conventions and in the courts still is working to keep individual congregations out of it.

But of the 5,561 congregations across the country, only 140 so far have joined officially in the nonmerging camp. Dr. Howell D. Davies of Chicago, a leader of the opposition group, says no further court suits or "any aggressive actions" are planned to try to stop the merger.

It is to take place in Cleveland Tuesday in colorful ceremonies.

The new denomination will bring into one body about 1,350,000 Congregational Christians and 800,000 E. and R. members, to make a church of 2,150,000, seventh largest in U. S. Protestantism.

The United States steel industry has about half a million stockholders.

Mr., Mrs. John A. Veach Mark 55th Anniversary

"He looks better than ever to me—I wouldn't trade our life for anything in the world," Mrs. John Armandale Veach said yesterday in speaking of her 55th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Veach had no celebration, just held a family dinner at their home, 506 Park Street.

The former Miss Kathryn Regina Jack, daughter of the late Marcus Perry and Rebecca Virginia Jack of Purgitsville, W. Va., became the bride of John Armandale Veach, son of the late Able Semour and Christine Kale High Veach, June 18, 1902. Rev. A. J. Secrist officiated at the ceremony, which was solemnized in the home of Rev. C. J. Racey, Purgitsville, at 5:30 p.m. A wedding reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Veach are the parents of two children, Mrs. Christine Chapman, Philadelphia; and German Able Veach, at home. They have two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mrs. Veach does her regular housework and is a practical nurse. Known as a "great musi-

Everybody's Pet Is Dead From Heart Ailment

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 20 (AP)—The chubby white dog with black spots took kindly to people, even the little children and strangers who stopped to pet him. But he had no tolerance for any canine that encroached upon his domain. Smiley Pete "lived" at Main and Limestone streets, the crossroads of this Bluegrass city. The chubby white dog with black spots took kindly to people, even the little children and strangers who stopped to pet him. But he had no tolerance for any canine that encroached upon his domain. Smiley Pete "lived" at Main and Limestone streets, the crossroads of this Bluegrass city. Apparently part spitz and the rest of his ancestry uncertain, Pete, about 14, died Monday.

Pete was much publicized and often photographed. He figured in some of Lexington's fund raising drives. A special polio fund was started in his honor in the last March of Dimes campaign and in the 1956 Red Cross drive, the dog wore a purse around his neck to accept contributions.

Cresaptown Festival Set

Plans were formulated for the outdoor fun festival July 15-20 on the school playground during a recent meeting of the Cresaptown Community Council at Cresaptown School.

Joseph Wenrich is chairman, John Yoder co-chairman and they are assisted by Mrs. Arlie Borror, Gilbert Keister and Mrs. Lester McGill.

Each organization affiliated with the council will sponsor a fund-raising project in keeping with previous years' plans. Part of last year's proceeds were used to place additional blacktop on the playground and install basketball courts on the blacktopped areas.

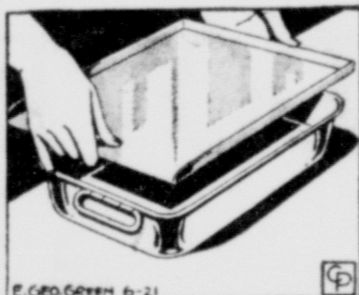

Additional funds will be used to hire a part time playground supervisor from June 24 through August 24 and for purchase of more playground equipment.

The playground committee is composed of Charles Smith, chairman, Miss Myra Nefflin, school principal, Mrs. Helen Loewendick and Lester Sherman. The playground will be supervised from 4 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, with Kent Smith of LaVale, a student at Salem College who is majoring in youth work, in charge.

Games for children and youth of all ages include badminton, softball, basketball, volley ball, horse shoe pitching and others.

Friday night, June 28, a public rally for area residents will be held at 8 p.m. at the school. Purpose is to acquaint residents with work of the council during the two years since it was organized and to discuss future plans. Officers and chairmen, the Teenage Advisory Council and officers of the Cresaptown Club will answer questions.

Reddick Files New Suit In Court Fight

BALTIMORE, June 20 (AP)—While a grand jury heard more witnesses in its probe of Dr. Robert H. Reddick's petition to block Maryland's new Medical Practices Act, the physician today filed a new court action.

He filed suit in Baltimore City Court in an attempt to throw out examinations being conducted by the State Board of Medical Examiners to license 450 medical school graduates.

The board is the only group under the new State law legally qualified to issue medical licenses.

The State Board of Homeopathic Medical Examiners, to which Reddick once belonged and from which he was ousted, is no longer in existence.

His suit today is the latest legal move in his fight to restore the authority to the homeopathic board outlawed by the new State Medical Practices Act.

Named in the suit is the Medical and Surgical Faculty, the medical society to which most physicians belong and the group formally represented by the board of medical examiners.

Judge S. Ralph Warnken signed an order calling on State officials to show by July 19 why Reddick's petition for a writ of mandamus to invalidate the examinations should not be approved.

Morgan Amadio, attorney for Dr. Reddick, said the suit is based on a section of State law which holds that members of the faculty of a medical college or university who pass on qualifications of graduates shall not sit on licensing boards.

The suit identifies medical board members Dr. Lewis P. Gundry, Dr. Walter C. Merkel and Dr. Frank K. Morris as members of the University of Maryland faculty and Dr. Samuel McLanahan as a member of the Johns Hopkins Medical School faculty.

Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert is also named in the suit.

Sybert's statement that Reddick's petition for a referendum on the new medical practices act was "shot through with improprieties or worse," prompted the current grand jury probe now in its third day.

Reddick filed the petition, containing more than 14,000 alleged signatures, with the secretary of State last May 28 in an effort to block the new law and place it on the November, 1958 ballot.

The new act became law June 1 while the legality of Reddick's petition was being investigated.

Rollins Named Associate Judge On East Shore

ANNAPOLIS, June 20 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin today named Edward D. E. Rollins of Elkton, former attorney general, as associate judge of the 2nd Judicial Circuit comprised of five counties on the Eastern Shore.

Rollins will succeed Judge Floyd J. Kintner of Elkton who is retiring at the age of 70.

The 2nd Judicial Circuit has three judges and includes Caroline, Kent, Cecil, Queen Annes and Talbot counties.

Rollins, a 57-year-old Baltimore native, was appointed attorney general by McKeldin in 1952 to fill the term of Hall Hammond, whom the governor named to the Court of Appeals bench.

Rollins, a Republican, ran for a full term as attorney general in 1954 but was defeated by C. Ferdinand Sybert, who now holds that office.

The new judge is a graduate of Baltimore City College, the University of Maryland and the university's law school. He was admitted to the Maryland Bar in 1922.

Rollins, who served as state's attorney for Cecil County for three terms, is president of the State Bar Assn. He also is a member of the Cecil County, 2nd Judicial Circuit and American Bar Associations. His term as head of the state group ends tomorrow.

McKeldin said Rollins was recommended for the appointment by the bar associations of every county in the circuit and by the state association.

Two other judicial appointments are expected to be recommended by the bar committee, which is now meeting at Atlantic City, N.J.

One concerns the impending end of the elected term of Chief Judge William R. Horney of Centerville. He is expected to be appointed to continue serving until the next election.

The same probably will be the case with Judge Stephen R. Collins of the Maryland Court of Appeals whose term expires this month.

Blaze In Stove Proves Undoing In Lottery Raid

BALTIMORE, June 20 (AP)—The stove was going full blast when police raided the home in North-west Baltimore, and the city was sweltering under its eighth straight day of plus-90 temperatures.

Sgt. Edgar Kirby and his men looked inside, pulled out burning lottery slips and charged the two Negroes on the scene—Lola B. Harrison, 18, and John E. Matthews Jr., 61.

Boy, 13, Drowns

BALTIMORE, June 20 (AP)—Richard Dudley, 13, drowned today in Middle River, east of the city, after he apparently fell into a small boat slip.

Files For Congress

ANNAPOLIS, June 20 (AP)—Del. Daniel B. Brewster of Baltimore County today filed as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the 2nd District.

The first Ph. D. degree presented in the United States was at Yale in 1861.

Amazing New Beauty Discovery!
DOVE creams your skin while you bathe

New bath and toilet bar is one-quarter cleansing cream

ORDINARY toilet soap dries your skin. But DOVE, the sensational new bath and toilet bar, is different. It actually creams your skin while you bathe.

You use DOVE just like soap—in your shower, bathtub and wash basin. But DOVE is a completely new formula. It makes soap old-fashioned.

Rich cleansing cream

One-quarter of every bar of DOVE is rich cleansing cream. That's why DOVE makes your skin feel so soft and smooth—with none of that dry, tight feeling you get from using soap. DOVE is good for your skin.

You can feel the rich cleansing cream in DOVE. You can actually smell its creamy, luxurious fragrance. DOVE lathers instantly—even in hardest water. And it leaves no bathtub ring.

DOVE looks different, too. It has a fascinating new shape—sculptured to fit the hand.

Lever Brothers unconditionally guarantees that DOVE is better for your face, your hands, your whole body, than any toilet soap. If you don't agree—we'll give you back every penny you paid.

"The reaction among dealers to this new concept of firearms, Mr. Donovan reports, is remarkable. He says they envision a whole new market for the sale of guns, and that preliminary consumer acceptance is confirming their optimism."

No telling where Vice President Donovan and High Standard are taking us. The two-tone lady's gat can't be far off, and pressing it for attention is sure to be the peachy rhinestone job with the new sequin barrel which moults prettily over the stiffened mate as he conks out.

It isn't hard to envision a delicate tete-a-tete at ye olde moderne teashoppe as two babes, tired from paying up their husbands' life insurance, settle down to match notes.

Gladys (dropping a saccharine into her whisky sour) — All I hope is the rat I'm married to appreciates the trouble I've gone to — getting ready to knock him off. Any other babe would have used a crummy old luger, or sharpened his head to a point and driven him into the ground with a croquet mallet. Not me! I've shopped until my feet hurt so much I could cry.

Irma — High Standard's sleek, compact revolver with quick-draw, non-sag sight and hammer and round butt grip caught my eye — both my eyes, in fact.

Gladys — They were all sold out of high standards all over town. I looked and looked. There is a very large market among women for handguns with a feminine appeal. Maybe I could get him to paint that old Smith and Wesson of his some attractive color. He's always puttering around the house with those do-it-yourself ideas. I think I will! The louse should be of SOME help. Let me see, now, I think I'll have one side painted chartreuse, my favorite color, and let me think

... let me think ... and the other side puce! It will be a rodney any man would be proud to be shot by, except an ungrateful bum like I got. Why, what's the matter, Irma?

Irma (huffy, calls for her check) — Matter? Do you mean to sit there and tell me you don't know what's the matter?

Gladys (near tears) — Irma, please. What have I done. We've been such close friends. We have the round butt for women's hands so much in common.

Irma (over her shoulder as she leaves) — We're through. I never thought my best friend would wear the same gun as I'm wearing to the same kind of party. (Bursts into tears and exits, leaving Gladys so distraught she orders a banana split.)

Meanwhile, back at High Standard, Vice President Donovan, in a speech to the workmen on the anniversary of the invention of the round butt for women's hands, said, "the rich colors and appealing design make them ideal for presentation pieces and trophies."

Ruling On LaVale Election Tie Sought

The attorney general of Maryland will be asked to make a ruling in breaking the tie for the top spot in the District 29 zoning referendum.

The candidate for the three-man LaVale Zoning Board receiving the most votes serves as chairman until the next general election in 1958 and will be on the board until 1962.

The second running candidate will serve until 1960 and the third, until next year.

C. Arthur Lancaster and John J. Rowan were tied for top position with 329 votes each. Leslie J. Clark was third with 326 votes.

The official canvass of the vote by the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors in the Court House Wednesday failed to break the tie.

The board discussed the tie and situation and turned the issue over to John M. Robb, the board's attorney, for a decision. Yesterday, after consultation between Robb and Earl E. Manges, board president, it was decided to ask the attorney general for an opinion.

Robb said that in his opinion the zoning board members cannot be sworn in until the ruling is received. He pointed out that the text book of the clerk of June 1.

Group To Attend School

Four members of the Allegany County Assessing Department will attend the annual School for Maryland Assessing Officers at the University of Maryland next Monday through Friday.

They are Somerville Nicholson, supervisor of assessments; Edward Eichner, Francis J. Plummer and David Kirk, assessors.

William H. Lemmert, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, will also attend the school to observe and to obtain information concerning the assessments system.

Registration for the school will be held Sunday starting at 4 p. m. at Charles Hall. Classes will be held in the Engineering Building. The assessors will stay on the campus in dormitories.

Certificates will be awarded by the university to those registrants who attend the minimum of 24 scheduled hours, take the written examination to be given on Monday, June 24, at 11:30 a. m. and complete the field project that will be assigned.

To be eligible for the certificate, those who have not had the basic course are required to attend the two-hour lecture by Albert W. Ward, secretary of the Maryland State Tax Commission, on Monday evening. Special certificates are awarded to those who have completed five of the annual courses of the Assessors School. A ten year certificate will be awarded to eligibles.

The school will be opened Monday, with introductory remarks by Aldro Jenks, city assessor of Waterbury, Conn., and director of the school, and Simon Clapper, supervisor of assessments, Washington County, chairman of the in-service training committee.

During the opening program, the group will be addressed by Herbert Shay, president of the National Association of Assessing Officers, and assessor of Fairfield, Conn.

A post road is so called from the fact that in early days the United States mail was carried over it.

City Street Oiling Program Runs Ahead Of Schedule

The street oiling program of streets in back of the Kelly Springfield Tire Company plant, ahead of schedule, according to Commissioner William H. Buchholz.

Despite being halted several days because of rainy weather, the work is at a stage where its completion is anticipated within a short time, Buchholz said.

Begun about a month ago, crews have completed oiling

Several streets in the latter section were being oiled yesterday, Commissioner Buchholz stated, and all streets will be completed as quickly as weather permits.

The oiling is being conducted on a basis of necessity as well as the condition of the streets, Commissioner Buchholz said.

Man Still Critical Following Shooting

The former Hagerstown High School athlete, shot while he and another federal narcotics agent participated in a Chicago dope raid, remained in serious condition yesterday.

Jack Love, 33, formerly of Hagerstown, was shot by a gunman last Wednesday night in a Chicago tavern.

One bullet, according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Junius A. Love, Hagerstown, just missed hitting his heart by a quarter of an inch. Another slug hit him in the arm.

His parents reported him to have a 50-50 chance to survive. He is a cousin of Mrs. Michael J. Manley, 555 Rose Hill Avenue.

Lawyers Attending State Bar Meeting

The Maryland State Bar Association meeting in Atlantic City is being attended by Chief Judge George Henderson, William C. Walsh and William Walsh and their wives.

The annual session opened yesterday and continues over the weekend.

In 1800, John Adams became the first President to occupy the White House.

The first sewing machine needle with the eye near the point was invented in 1841.

Deed Filed In Court For Widening Street

A deed was filed in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday whereby property owned by Philip T. and Howard T. Carolan was deeded to the Mayor and Council for the purpose of widening Knox Street.

The Carolans were given $1,850 for a strip of land on the north-westerly corner of the intersection of Knox and North Centre streets, with the easement running ten feet in width on the west side of Knox Street for a distance of ten feet.

The Carolans were granted a right of way on the remaining portion of the property, with the understanding that they will raze a three-story brick building on the site within a 60-day period.

The city was given a temporary easement of five feet while the work of widening the street and installing curbs is completed.

Church To Conduct Leadership Program

The Sunday School Department of Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church will sponsor a leadership training program at the church, with classes scheduled from 7:30 to 9 p. m. Monday through Friday of next week.

Speaker at each of the sessions will be George A. Hazen, supply minister at Zion Church. His topics will include "Objectives In Christian Education," "How Pupils Learn," "Discipline In The Church School," "Curriculum In The Church School" and "Lesson Preparation."

The program, according to the supply pastor, is designed for people who have taught in the church school and those interested in teaching. It will deal with practice as well as theory and question and answer periods will be held after each class.

The annual picnic of the Zion Church School will be held next Wednesday evening at Constitution Park.

Fire Safety Seminar For Area Planned At Keyser In October

Cooperating Agencies Set Stage

RE-ELECTED — Dr. Eugene E. Thompson was re-elected president of the West Virginia Optometric Association at the convention held at Ogleby Park in Wheeling, W. Va. Dr. Thompson practices in Charleston, W. Va. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Thompson of Romney, W. Va.

KEYSER—Groundwork was laid Wednesday night for a fire safety seminar to be held in Keyser early in October. The one-day program of study in methods and techniques of fire prevention will be open to the public and will be of special interest to merchants, industries, schools, hospitals and institutions.

It is tentatively proposed to cover such subjects as "Forming a Fire Brigade," "The Choice and Use of Fire Extinguishers," "Fire Prevention for Schools, Hospitals, Institutions and Industries," "Your Job and Fire Safety," and "Good Housekeeping to Prevent Fires."

Lectures, demonstrations and panel discussions will be conducted by experts in the field and the program will be topped off with a banquet in the evening at which a distinguished national expert in the field of fire prevention will be the speaker.

Disaster Nursing Conference Set For W. Va. Area

ROMNEY—"Nursing in Disaster" is the theme of a conference for registered nurses to be held on Friday, June 28, in the Hampshire County Court House at Romney. The all-day conference, scheduled for 9 a. m., is being jointly sponsored by the American Red Cross Nursing Service, the West Virginia League of Nursing, the West Virginia State Health Department and the West Virginia State Nurses Association. Participating in the program will be Miss Alice Hardy, RN, American Red Cross Service; Miss Leada Neiminger, director, Bureau of Public Health Nursing, of the West Virginia State Health Department; and Mrs. Virginia Parsons, area supervisor of the State Health Department.

Emphasis in this conference will be on organization and meeting nursing responsibilities in disaster. Natural disasters occur frequently in this state as evidenced by recent floods.

The content of the information to be presented, will be divided into two parts—natural disasters and enemy caused disasters. These presentations will be followed by group discussions. Adjournment is scheduled for 3:30 p. m. DST. Similar conferences are being held in three other areas in the state.

This conference has been planned in response to a feeling of need by nurses. As a result of the conference, it is hoped that nurses will better understand their role in disaster work and also will be helped to find their place in the Civil Defense organization, and to work with other agencies concerned with disaster work.

Visits Florida

FROSTBURG — Miss Patsy Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dunn, Grant Street, is visiting with friends in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Legion To Meet

MIDLAND — There will be a joint meeting of American Legion Post No. 169, and the Ladies Auxiliary, Sunday, at 2:30 p. m., at the post home. Commander Hugh Coleman requests that all members attend, as important business will be discussed.

Visits Parents

FROSTBURG — William Donald Pressman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pressman, High Street, is visiting in Frostburg. Pressman is music instructor in the high school in Salisbury and will leave Monday for a summer course at the University of Maryland.

Ministerium Adopts New Schedules

KEYSER — The June meeting of the Keyser Ministerium was held in Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church on South Mineral Street recently. A decision was reached to cancel meetings during July and August unless called by the officers.

Also, the ministers announced that the ministerium and member families will hold a picnic dinner on July 5, at 5:30 p. m. and Mrs. John D. MacLeod and Mrs. Donald Anderson were named to make the general arrangements.

A change in the program of broadcasting morning services of the several churches has been made. Until the end of September the services will be broadcast on Sunday evening over WKYR at 7 to 8 p. m. Through the fall and winter months the broadcast will be from 3 to 4 p. m.

Churches cooperating in the Community Sunday evening services have decided to discontinue these services this summer.

Berkeley Co. Man Wins Outstanding Guard Trophy

CAMP BRECKINRIDGE, Ky. June 20 (AP)—A Berkeley County civilian soldier will receive a trophy tomorrow as the outstanding member of the West Virginia National Guard for 1957.

He is M. Sgt. Lawrence R. Kershner, 26, of Falling Waters. A six-man board of officers selected Kershner to receive the Okey L. Patteson Cup, named for West Virginia's former governor.

The cup is awarded annually during the Guard's summer encampment. Army National Guard units from West Virginia currently are undergoing two weeks of training here and at Ft. Knox, Ky.

The cup will be presented to Kershner tomorrow afternoon during Governor's Day ceremonies. Gov. Underwood will fly here for the occasion.

Kershner was chosen from among 10 outstanding guardsmen.

Machinery Destroyed On Freight Train

PAW PAW—Fire destroyed a carload of machinery on a B&O Railroad freight train near Paw Paw.

Members of the Paw Paw Volunteer Fire Company answered the alarm about 7 a. m. but they were only able to prevent the flames from spreading. The fire company reported the machinery was so badly burned that it was practically impossible to determine what kind of equipment was on the gondola car.

The freight, Local 97, headed to Cumberland from Hagerstown, was in transit when the fire broke out. Railroad officials indicated that the gondola was set afire by a "hot box" in the car trucks.

Rockville Dull and John Easley, USNR, and a member of Cumberland 5-9 Surface Division, sailed aboard the USS Roberts for a month's cruise to South America. Chief Shaffer is the husband of Mrs. Dorothy Shaffer, Mt. Savage, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shaffer, 229 Glenn Street, Cumberland.

Romney Man Held In Assault Case

ROMNEY—A 52-year-old Romney man has been charged with statutory rape of a 14-year-old Hampshire County girl.

The man, Ray Raines, yesterday was committed to the Hampshire County Jail under $10,000 bond.

Sgt. W. F. Bowley of the Romney Detachment of the West Virginia State Police said the charge came about after Raines was arrested on a warrant charging him with assault of the girl.

Raines was taken before Justice of the Peace J. L. Russell who set bond at $10,000. He will be held for action of the July term of grand jury.

Sheriff Melvin Hott of Hampshire County assisted Sgt. Bowley with the investigation.

Central Class Plans 25th Anniversary Reunion

LONACONING — A twenty-fifth anniversary reunion is being planned by the Class of 1932 of Central High School of Lonaconing.

A turkey banquet will be held on Tuesday, July 2, at the Alvin C. Neat Post No. 5280, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Lonaconing, during Lonaconing's Homecoming Week, served by VFW Auxiliary members.

John Edward Atkinson, class president, will be toastmaster and extend opening greetings and roll call. Garlitz Barclay will give the invocation.

"Somebody Loves Me," their class song, will be sung by the group. "In Memoriam" will be given by Sam McFarlane, Teachers attending will give remarks. Their corps of teachers in 1932 included Arthur F. Smith, principal; Mrs. Jennie Jones Grahame, secretary; Miss Daisy Cline, vice principal; Lowell M. Sowers, assistant vice principal; Mrs. Hilda B. Haugen, Mrs. Helen White Francis, Mrs. Mary Esther Smith Fields, Winfield Scott Morris and John Armstrong.

Miss Daisy Cline has been invited to be guest speaker. A vocal solo will be presented by Harvey Frye. "Did You Know That?" will be given by Miss Margaret W. Moses. "Have You Forgotten 'Orangeade'?" will be recalled by Mrs. Mildred Hyde, Patrick Atkinson, class secretary, will give the awards of the evening. "Farewell Songs" will be sung by the reunion class. "Did You Know That?" and "Orangeade" were favorite columns in their school newspaper, "The Orange and Black."

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 20 (INS)—Any edition of a deal will be closed for Guy Madison to make a picture in London. He has two iron in the fire, and one of them, for which Helen Ainsworth is negotiating, is "Puzzle For Friends" which would be made on the Riviera for James O. Rufford and Ludwig Gerber.

In talking with Guy he said, "I won't let me go without her." Sheila, who expects a baby in September, will take Bridget, their eldest child, and stay close to Guy.

"Puzzle For Friends" has a July 29 starting date.

I've noticed that when Josh Logan casts a picture based on a stage hit he uses, as often as possible, the actor who knows the role. I guess he figures when you have the tops on hand, why go looking for a substitute.

That's exactly what he's done in giving Roy Walston the comedy lead in "South Pacific." Roy played the character of Luther Billis for years and years—and he couldn't be better. May-be you'll remember the sock way I sang "There's Nothing Like a Dame."

Next week, Walston leaves with Josh, Mitzi Gaynor and Romano Brazzi for the first location scenes in Honolulu.

After six years in the east where some 200 TV films were produced, Marion Parsonnet returned to make his headquarters in Hollywood.

His last eastern venture, a full length, is a screen version of Franchot Tone's "Uncle Vanya," the Anton Chekhov classic. "Franchot and I produced this picture as partner's," says Parsonnet, "and it will give screen audiences a chance to see a Broadway play transferred directly to the screen with the original stage cast—plus Franchot Tone, of course."

A prolific screen writer for years (he did "I'll Be Seeing You" for Selznick and two of Rita Hayworth's biggest, "Gilda" and "Cover Girl") Marion will now concentrate on writing.

All these reports that this and that company is about to film "My Fair Lady" are without any foundation whatsoever. As it stands now, there will be no negotiations for this world shattering popular musical for at least three years.

Cary Grant who was reported as the favorite for the lead in the screen version says that no one ever talked to him about it.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Cary Grant held out for two days with flu on the set of "Kiss Them For Me," then he was ordered home to bed.

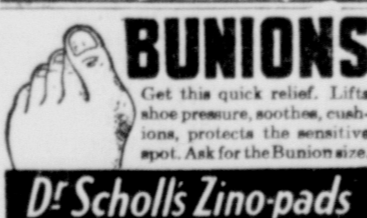

Mrs. Harry Warner checked in at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital to be near her husband and get a check-up herself.

The lovely twins, Pier Angeli and Marisa Pavan celebrated their 25th birthday with a party at the Bel Air Hotel.

Ronald Regan's four-year-old daughter, Patsy, is the latest measles victim in our sub-sub deb set.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Getting Books Out Of The Deep Freeze

The oft-heard quip, "Don't give John a book, he has one," reflects an attitude toward reading matter that may be more widespread than first thought suggests. Many persons can recall the day of the door-to-door book salesman who disposed of not a few sets of an author's works because the bookcase had to be filled and the bindings matched the buyer's rug. And even today how many books are in deep freeze on someone's bookshelf not because their owners cherish their contents so much as they regard them as necessary to give color and atmosphere to a living room—or any room. And in how many cases would a check reveal uncut pages? Since 1954 bookshelf limbos have been tapped by the Scarsdale (N. Y.) Woman's Club with a yield of more than 45,000 volumes that have stopped gathering dust and have been used to stock reading rooms elsewhere. In an operation that has extended far beyond the state's borders, worthwhile reading matter has been sent to hospitals, nursing homes, nurses' dormitories, prisons, veterans' centers, and even some public libraries. Each gift of books is carefully balanced in content with the purpose of meeting reading needs as completely as possible. Damaged and undesirable books are discarded, while rare volumes are sold for funds with which to purchase encyclopedias and dictionaries that can be included in the gifts to beneficiaries of the program.

The Scarsdale project creates curiosity as to how big is the untapped lode of "unemployed" books in other areas. There must be many useful volumes gathering dust in attics, in closets, or on bookshelves here, awaiting only some person or group of persons concerned to get them into receptive hands. Here, surely, is a rewarding undertaking.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Are We Hoaxed?

There is no Status of Forces Treaty with Japan. There is such a treaty with the countries which are members of NATO, but when that treaty was confirmed by the Senate, two reservations were stipulated, one, that an American soldier's constitutional rights should not be diminished and the other that the Status of Forces Treaty with NATO countries should not serve as a precedent for agreements with other countries.

In the case of William S. Girard, this is an important issue which has to be taken to the courts, as it has been, by his counsel Earl J. Carroll. Here is an American citizen who is entitled to be tried by an American military court but who is being handed over by our government to a Japanese criminal court and is being forced to accept a Japanese lawyer, not of his choosing, and it is all being admittedly done by the Department of Defense, for political reasons which are independent of the facts in his law or the laws of the United States or the laws of nations.

The Department of Defense bases its case on Article III of the Security Treaty with Japan, signed September 8, 1951. That treaty granted the United States the right to maintain armed forces in Japan. Article III reads:

"The conditions which shall govern the disposition of Armed Forces of the United States of America in and about Japan shall be determined by Administrative Agreement between the two governments."

The word that is the cause of the argument is "disposition." About such a word, diplomats can debate forever, although there are plenty of dictionaries to tell them what it means. Earl Johnson and Dean Rusk on February 28, 1952, signed an administrative agreement with the Japanese which proposes that the United States sign an agreement with Japan similar to the NATO Status of Forces Treaty. It is a proposal, not a fact. Furthermore, such an agreement would have been an evasion of the constitutional authority of the President and the Senate. It was something that the Japanese wanted to give them face but which our government at the time dared not submit to the test of public opinion and Senatorial ratification.

So, a Protocol was drawn up, signed by John M. Allison, United States Ambassador to Japan, on September 29, 1953. A Protocol is really a work paper, a document used as preliminary to the opening of diplomatic transactions. Allison's Protocol relinquishes civilian and certain American military personnel to the Japanese government. This document has been a hush-hush affair, never submitted to the Senate as a treaty and surely cannot constitutionally be binding upon the United States. As far as the Protocol affects Girard, this is the wording:

"(A) The Military authorities of the United States shall have the primary right to exercise jurisdiction over members of the United States Armed Forces or the civilian component in relation to . . .

"(11) offenses arising out of any act or omission done in the performance of official duty."

It has been admitted by the government of the United States that Girard was engaged in the performance of his duty when he killed Mrs. Sakai.

On September 29, 1953, Ambassador John M. Allison signed another document. This one was entitled, "Agreed Official Minutes Regarding Protocol To Amend Article XVII of the Administrative Agreement Between the United States of America and Japan." What the value of "Agreed Official Minutes" is, in international relations, only Allison can know. There is no such technical terminology in law. Undoubtedly this was an attempt to clarify a confusion of diplomatic origin by establishing a two man commission to decide what all the previous documents mean.

Finally the two man commission, an American and a Japanese military man, composed a document entitled "Agreed Views," which are only the agreed views of these two men, as they were never included in a treaty, ratified by the Senate, according to the Constitution. Thereby the Constitution is altogether bypassed, and what it all comes to is that the liberty and life of an American soldier in Japan are no longer safeguarded by the Constitution.

In fact, both the Japanese and the American governments admit that Girard is a victim of a political situation and that justice and law are not at issue. That was the way the American government case was presented to a Senate committee and to a court in Washington.

Refuge Or Rat Hole?

Everybody Plays Politics With The Atom

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

All concerned will, of course, piously swear that no thought of partisan political advantage has entered anyone's head, where the disarmament issue is concerned. But the fact is that disarmament in general, and a moratorium on weapons tests in particular, now look like becoming dominating political issues. The further fact is that the Eisenhower administration is in a bad jam where these issues are concerned, and the astute Democratic leadership is thoroughly aware of it.

On Monday, Sen. Mike Mansfield, the respected Democratic whip, proposed a four-power meeting of the heads of state to reach agreement on outlawing the big hydrogen weapons. He tied his proposal in with a previous proposal by Democratic Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson, for an "open curtain" exchange between the United States and the Soviet Union.

No-one who witnessed the debate on the Mansfield proposal could fail to sense its political overtones, despite the nobly non-partisan attitude adopted by all the participants. During the course of the debate, Johnson rose to say that the Democratic majority would agree to send "observers" to the London disarmament negotiations, if Secretary of State Dulles insisted.

But "advisers" should not be sent, Johnson earnestly maintained, since to do so would "usurp" the executive function. Johnson thus neatly side-stepped Dulles' attempt to force the Democrats to share responsibility for whatever Harold Stassen brings back—or fails to bring back—from London.

The next Democratic move will take place before the disarmament subcommittee headed by the able Sen. Hubert Humphrey. Humphrey expects to call a series of witnesses before the subcommittee to testify on the Soviet proposal for a two to three year moratorium on nuclear weapons tests. Wherever possible, the hearings will be open.

Two of the first witnesses to be called will be Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson, and either Atomic Energy Commissioner Willard Libby or chairman of the AEC Lewis Strauss. Wilson and Libby (or Strauss) will be asked to explain the flat contradiction between recent statements by Wilson and Libby. In a statement before the joint Congressional Atomic Energy Commission, Libby stated that development of missiles would be "crippled by a cessation of tests." Libby's formal statement was previously cleared with Strauss, who is violently opposed to any moratorium on tests. A few days after Libby had spoken, Wilson said that testing of nuclear warheads had "nothing to do with the perfection of the delivery system" of missiles, and that thus an agreed ban on tests would not stand in the way of successful development of missiles.

Humphrey can be expected to exploit this contradiction for all it is worth. Moreover, the contradiction reflects a basic split in the Administration, between Stassen and his beleaguered supporters, who want to make a serious attempt to negotiate with the Soviets, and the Strauss-Radford group, who bitterly oppose Stassen's view.

This kind of basic split on matters of high policy in an administration always gives the opposition a major political opportunity. Moreover, the Soviet proposal for a moratorium places the Eisenhower administration in a peculiarly difficult position. For it was, after all, Adlai Stevenson in the 1956 campaign who first proposed a moratorium on weapons tests, and it was Dwight D. Eisenhower who strongly opposed the idea. By agreeing, ostensibly at least, to accept technicians within the Soviet borders to report any violation, the Soviets have undercut the major argument against a ban. The experts contend that only a handful of detection outposts in Soviet territory would give foolproof guarantees against Soviet cheating on the agreement. And it should not be difficult to find out if the Soviets, for once, really mean what they say.

Yet for the Administration now to agree to such a controlled moratorium would seem to prove that Stevenson was right in 1956, and Eisenhower wrong. Moreover, there is a lot of evidence, in the Gallup polls and elsewhere, that an agreed ban would now be politically popular. "Adlai was premature," one Democratic Senator remarked recently, "but now the thing has really caught on." Obviously, there are dangers for the Democrats, as well as opportunities, in the issue. There is the danger of seeming to play the Soviet game, and there is the danger inherent in the President's reputation, both as a lover of peace and as an expert in matters military. Above all, there is the danger of seeming to "play politics with the atom." Yet the issue is almost certain to become a major political issue all the same, and in a democracy, that is as it should be.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Atomic scientists are trying to send their brain brat to reform school.

Throwing Khrushy's snowballs is just as fissionated as chucking hydrated bombs. No American scientists should be a delighted little squeal in Khrushy's piggy bank.

Two thousand egg-heads signed the proclamation of diluted optimism. They hope the lion will lie down with the lamb. But nobody ever heard of lion stew.

We appoint pistol packin' mamma as den mother for the cub bomb squads. With orders to pack chemical sets in with the picnic lunches.

Driving A Car Is A Privilege, Not A Right

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The slogan, "Driving is a privilege," needs to be emphasized. Those who abuse it by taking the wheel while intoxicated, or by acting like maniacs on the highway, should have their license revoked.

For many years, accident prevention has been a hit-or-miss proposition. Every community has its own solution and in many areas the situation reeked of politics. We now have a definite plan of attack that involves the vehicle, the road, and the driver. Our experts hope to educate the driver at the high school level. Some states make such courses mandatory before issuing a license. This worthwhile project should be incorporated into the curriculum of each school in the nation so that our boys and girls will learn that driving is a privilege and that transgressing the traffic code is as immoral as killing or stealing.

Great Britain is becoming alarmed at its massacre. The daily average of highway deaths is 15, in contrast to our 110. The World Federation for Mental Health, at a meeting in Berlin last summer, devoted part of its program to the study of speed. A French expert stated that the desire for speed was an expression of man's dissatisfaction with his limitations and frustrations and that spectators derive a similar satisfaction from auto races.

At any rate, speeding is a sign of immaturity and a compensation for feelings of inferiority and inadequacy. It might be wise to try speeders in courts presided over by a judge who is a psychiatrist rather than a lawyer.

The time may come when a physical examination will be a prerequisite to obtaining a license. Mr. Citizen might be surprised to learn how many drivers are half-blind, are subject to epileptic seizures, have a disabling paralysis, or are on the verge of a stroke or a heart attack.

Many individuals drive while taking medications that decrease alertness or with a foot or an arm in a cast. I have known persons to drive after getting drops in their eyes; after reaching home they say, "I don't know how I made it."

These points are stressed because it brings us back to driver education. The majority of these drivers obtained their license before these disorders and circumstances arose. Driver education stresses the need for alertness and health and might discourage driving after a disability occurs.

U.S. Negotiating With Australians For Desert Rocket Testing Sites

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—It's become so difficult to find enough space to test nuclear weapons that the United States is negotiating with Australia for the use of its vast interior desert.

This is the isolated Woomera Rocket Range where the British exploded two atomic bombs.

The Defense Department is interested in leasing it because the Western Hemisphere has just about run out of space for testing long-range guided missiles. We have too many people, too many cities that might get hit or contaminated.

The Australian missile range would be used for testing the ICBM or Intercontinental Ballistic Missile. We are now testing this off the Florida capes, but the missiles are aimed toward South America, and, although we have negotiated treaty arrangements with Latin American countries permitting us to track the missiles, Latin Americans have become increasingly jittery over these tests.

Just recently the Atlas had to be exploded in the air by the ground safety officer because it started to go out of control and he feared it might hit a near-by Florida city. Latin Americans fear the missile would be even harder to control once it gets over the Equator and heads in the general direction of Rio de Janeiro, Montevideo or Buenos Aires.

Furthermore, tracking a missile over land is much easier than over water. The United States has set up a chain of islands in the south Atlantic. However, the great uninhabited Australian desert would permit tracking over dry land.

Australia is reported willing to permit use of her missile range in return for the use of modern American atomic weapons. The granting of Australian air routes across the United States is also reported to be tied up with the missile negotiations.

Unpalatable Breakfast

Congressional guests at the recent White House breakfast found themselves chewing a large Pennsylvania dam mixed up in their ham and eggs.

Ike was talking about the "item veto" plan which would permit him to veto single "pork barrel" projects out of an appropriation bill without having to veto the entire bill.

The suggestion was greeted with a horrified silence.

"Well, now, wait a minute, gentlemen," interposed the President. "I'm only advocating a little economy. I thought you fellows were for economy."

"It seems," he continued, "that with many members of Congress, economy on government spending is good everywhere except in their own states and districts."

At this point, GOP Rep. Leon Gavin of Oil City, Pa., a leading economy spokesman, spoke up: "Mr. President, under the Constitution, Congress cannot relinquish its legislative powers to the executive branch of the government."

"Well, Leon," shot back Ike. "I would say that you fit very well into the category I have just been talking about. You are all the time espousing economy in Congress. You tell me to cut down on foreign aid and other things that I think are important for the country as a whole."

"But how about that $100-million appropriation for a big dam on the Allegheny River in your district, which is part of the civil functions bill? I noticed that you haven't made a speech against that on the House floor."

Congressman Gavin stopped chewing on his ham and eggs so abruptly it looked as if he had bitten right into the Allegheny dam.

The White House Lobby

The White House palace guard has done a lot of effective wire pulling on Capitol Hill in the past, but seldom has it operated with such backstage intensity as it did to pass the civil rights bill. Assistant President Sherman Adams was on the telephone constantly rallying Republican votes. A swarm of White House aides, led by Jack Martin, former aide to the late Senator Taft, was busy button-holing. Vice President Nixon personally talked to every California Republican and several from other states.

White House lobbyists were careful, however, to work through GOP leader Joe Martin in the House and Bill Knowland in the Senate.

This miffed Congressman Charlie Halleck of Indiana, who had been the chief contact in the House and didn't like being bypassed.

"If the White House wants me to help," he grumbled privately, "why don't they come to me?" In the end, however, Halleck also joined in lining up Republican votes for civil rights.

PHOTOGRAPHS

Does your wife know how to be photographed? That is, having her picture taken by the snapshot method. Or by a news photographer? She should know which side of her face to present to the camera. It is said painters usually paint a woman's profile from the left because all that is gentle and feminine in the human visage is expressed on the left. One of the minor tragedies in a woman's life is having published a photograph which does not do her justice. Or does her an injustice. Have your wife check on this matter. That will lessen her chances of being moved to tears when she sees published a photograph that makes her appear older or less beautiful than she really is.

An opposing lawyer asked one of Don's clients, "How many times have you been arrested?" Miller, objecting, said the question should be, "How many times have you been convicted?" How right he was! Many an innocent man has been arrested and certainly unless convicted it should not be held against him. Incidentally, Don's objection was sustained.

BRIDE PROTESTS

Pat Gaston, the 10th bride of the whimsical millionaire Tommy Manville, keeps insisting she didn't marry for money. I believe her. Pat is six feet, one inch in height. Was 27 years old when she became a bride. It was her first marriage. Very tall girls who reach the age of 27 unmarried are likely to become a little desperate. I believe Miss Gaston married Mr. Manville chiefly because she wanted to get married. I have known some of the previous Mrs. Manvilles. They described Tommy as a generous, kind and considerate fellow. They liked him. It seems that in many of his marriages it was Manville who wanted the divorce. His first marriage took place 46 years ago. That was to Florence Huber. That marriage lasted 11 years.

Seventy-eight per cent of the owners of harness horses in this country don't win enough purses to break even on the season. How then do they manage to live? We can only assume they must make money by wagering. It is said 10 per cent of the harness horse owners win 90 per cent of the purse money. So, sir, if you are a harness horse fan you might find out the names of this 10 per cent of successful owners. Perhaps it could be the basis of a profitable system.

Lazy Hostess Makes A Hit! The Ice Cream Pie With The Chocolate Crust

For a quick dinner before the theatre—for a tasty supper after it—for Sunday nights—for those unexplained times when afternoon guests stay on and on... have them cook their own. Here's a menu where the guests do most of the work...

Minted Lamb Patties (with Mint Butter, Mint Sauce or Currant Mint Sauce)
Salade Fatigue (Tired Salad)
Chilled soft drink
Chips, Cheese and Fruit

Minted Lamb Patties

They are usually prepared for you so all you do is dip each one in Mint Sauce or Mint Butter—wrap an onion ring or two around it (like a rubber band) and spear it with a skewer... then hand it to your guest and offer him the fireplace or the barbecue pit.

2 lbs. Lamb Patties should serve 6 or 8

Mint Sauce
(Recipe below makes about 1 cupful. Increase according to need.)
1½ tbsps. confectionery sugar
¼ cup finely chopped mint leaves
3 tbsps. water
½ cup strong vinegar
Heat water and dissolve confectionery sugar. Cool this syrup. Then add mint leaves and vinegar. (Make ½ to 1 hour before serving.)

One-fourth of the delivered price of an automobile goes for taxes.

This is a pie for the gay in spirit. It's a confection that merrily brings together such all-out favorites as ice cream, chocolate, canned apple sauce and peppermint candy in a wonderfully eye-filling dessert. Fun to serve, you'll think. And even more fun to eat.

Your first thought will probably be... parties... guests.

But let the family in on this pie, too. For all its prancy airs, this is an easy pie to make... easy enough to serve for any family dinner... and often, at that.

The crust carries the chocolate. The tiny nubby bits stick out all over it. The topping boasts the apple sauce and peppermint candy—and do use canned apple sauce for zesty apple tang and for convenience. The filling itself is the ice cream. Large, generous scoops of it. Pile 'em as high as you wish. Then spoon the topping over. And there's your pie, cool, refreshing, ready to delight the taste with its lovely mingled flavors.

For your next party!

Ice Cream Confection Pie
2 cups canned apple sauce
½ cup crushed peppermint candy
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 square unsweetened chocolate, grated
½ cup butter or margarine
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Combine apple sauce and candies; chill several hours. Sift together flour, sugar, and salt; add chocolate. Cut in shortening with 2 knives or pastry blender. Press out into 9" pie plate; press edges with tines of a fork. Prick bottom and sides with tines of fork. Bake in hot oven, 400°F., 10-15 minutes. Cool. Spoon ice cream into pie shell. Top with apple sauce mixture. Serve immediately.

Mint Butter
(Makes approximately 1 cupful. Increase amounts as wanted.)
¼ cup butter
1 tsp. lemon juice
¼ cup finely chopped mint leaves or...
¼ tsp. curry powder (if you prefer curry flavor to mint.)
½ tsp. salt (if butter is unsalted.)

Beat butter until creamy, soupy soft. Add lemon juice slowly. (Add salt if necessary.) Then add mint leaves or curry powder.

Currant Mint Sauce
(Makes 1 large cupful.)
1¼ tbsps. finely chopped mint leaves
1 tsp. grated orange rind or—thin yellow orange rind (cut with scissors into fine pieces) tumbler of currant jelly

Add 1 tbsps. sherry for variation

Separate currant jelly in tiny pieces but do not beat. Add mint leaves and orange rind. Melt on stove to serve warm... or serve cool!

New meat 'n vegetable dish!

HAMBURGER KEBABS
Mix following ingredients thoroughly: 1½ lbs. ground beef, ¼ tsp. black pepper, ¼ tsp. cayenne, 1 tsp. sour cream, 1½ tsp. Sterling Salt, 1 medium onion—minced. Shape into 12 balls. Thread on skewers; 3 to a skewer with mushroom cap and green-pepper chunk between hamburgers. Roll skewers in French dressing. Broil to taste. P.S. Any dish has extra zest, extra flavor richness when cooked and seasoned with Sterling Salt!

STERLING SALT
brings out the best in food!

Chicken Empanadas And Coffee -- A South-Of-The Border Pair

Latin America! — Chicken Empanadas and strong black coffee! There's a combination that is enjoyed in every Latin American country every day of the year. The Empanadas are tasty two-bite-size pastries filled with a spicy chicken mixture. For the just-before-dinner hour, they are one of the most delicious hot snacks you have ever tasted. The coffee? In the Latin American way, it is dark and full of flavor. It can be served steaming in tiny cups with lots of sugar or, if you prefer, serve it with lots of chopped ice in small glasses.

Chicken Empanadas
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

½ cup minced onions
1 cup finely chopped cooked chicken
¼ cup minced pimiento
¼ cup chopped ripe olives
¼ cup chopped stuffed olives
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 hard cooked egg, minced
Few drops Tabasco
½ cup shortening
2 packages pie crust mix

Melt butter or margarine in skillet. Add onions and cook over low heat, stirring often, until soft but not brown. Add chicken and pimiento and cook until lightly browned. Set aside. Combine remaining ingredients (except shortening and pie crust mix) and add to chicken mixture. Cut shortening into pie crust mix. Add liquid as directed on package. Roll out very thin. Cut in 3 dozen 3-inch squares. Place about 1 tablespoon filling on each square. Fold pastry over filling to make a triangle. Crimp edges. Prick with tines of fork. Bake in hot oven, 425°, 12 to 15 minutes or until brown. Serve hot. Makes about 3 dozen.

The test of a good Latin American cook is her ability to make tender, flaky Empanadas with a spicy, delicious filling. Chicken Empanadas are an authentic south-of-the-border snack. Serve them with plenty of strong dark coffee—either demitasse or iced.

Waffle Variations

Start summer breakfast menu plans with tender, light brown waffles. Plain waffles are always a tempting highlight but did you ever think of the different ways you could vary waffles? Chopped, cooked bacon and diced cooked smoked ham are always grand when added to the waffle batter. Grated orange rind and orange juice give a tart touch and for still another flavor add grated American cheese to the waffle batter.

Banana Orange Cooler

(Makes four 8-oz. servings)
3 tablespoons orange juice concentrate
6 teaspoons sugar
3 ripe bananas, mashed
3 cups chilled liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
Add orange juice concentrate and sugar to bananas; blend well with rotary beater or electric mixer. Slowly add liquefied instant nonfat dry milk; beat until blended. Serve.

To make pan gravies from chops and filets of meat taste most delicious, remove the meat when it is cooked, pour off any excess fat, then add two tablespoons of sherry, a nutty amontillado or dry fino, to the bits sticking to the pan and pour the gravy over the meat.

2 packages (3 oz. size) cream cheese
1 can (4 oz.) pimientos, chopped
½ cup celery, chopped
¾ cup walnuts or pecans, chopped
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
¼ teaspoon salt
Drain the crushed pineapple. Heat the pineapple juice, and dissolve the gelatin in the juice. Cool until slightly thickened. Fold in softened cream cheese and crushed pineapple. Beat with electric mixer until cheese is in small lumps. Add pimientos, celery, nuts and salt. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into 5 cup oiled metal mold or glass dish. Chill until firm. Makes 12 servings.

This salad will keep beautifully in the refrigerator for several days, or, if you wish, try freezing it. It's the smoothest, creamiest frozen salad you have ever eaten.

Whole Roast Turkey For Wedding Feasts

Brides and grooms of June also suggest a hearty wedding feast. Many a June wedding will find that roast turkey makes a perfect centerpiece for the dinner table. Turkey, with its accompaniments, will harmonize with other wedding table settings. For a large wedding or anniversary dinner, a second or third roast turkey may be necessary.

There is no need to stuff the turkey for these festive occasions. It is served with ample accompaniments. Roast your turkey at low temperature — 325 degrees F. Roasting time is 4½ to 5½ hours for medium-size and 3½ to 5 hours for small size. Basting is not a must but can be done with a favorite fat or wine, or fat with fruit juice. Doneness can be determined by the use of a meat thermometer. Place the thermometer so the bulb is in the center of the inside thigh muscle. Be sure it doesn't touch the thighbone, for bones are conductors of heat. When the turkey is done the thermometer should register between 190 and 195 degrees F. You can also test for doneness by simply moving the drumstick up and down. If it moves readily or twists out of the joint, the turkey is done.

When ordering turkey allow one-half to three-fourths of a pound of turkey for each serving for weights of 12 pounds or over. The accompanying vegetable for weddings is tiny peas, the smallest size the garden yields, seasoned to taste and accompanied by sliced sauteed fresh mushrooms. For dessert, heart-shaped Petit Fours (French for little cakes) have been inscribed with the names of the bride and groom. A tiered wedding cake will naturally be a stellar attraction.

Fruit And Cheese Board Quick, healthy, easy-to-clear-away dessert—cheese and fruit board. With such mouth-watering cheese as Oka, Gouda, Port du Salut, Roquefort . . . your guests have a choice between the "dip" and the solid taste of cheese. Here's a meal that will tempt you to entertain every night—and you may never see the last of your guests.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Head First For Beauty

Hairlessness is a habit that thrives during the summer. And it's a good thing. Fresh air and moderate sun are both beneficial to normal hair.

If you have time to dry your hair in the sun, by all means do it. Long sessions under a dryer in a beauty salon or at home dry the scalp. This will not happen if the hair dries naturally in the sun and fresh air. Make a habit, also, of going out of doors without your hat—when the weather is temperate.

If your hair is thin, tight hats don't help; they are really detrimental to the scalp. Why? They hamper circulation. We know there are times when you have to wear that sort of chapeau for fashion's sake, but don't keep it on any longer than necessary.

Change The Part To give all your scalp and hair an opportunity to get air, change the part every so often.

In hair styling, we have found that a diagonal part is most becoming to those who have thin hair. It provides an even distribution of the hair and makes it appear heavier and more generous in dressing. To part the hair, run the line from a point on the forehead line to an opposite point on the crown of the head.

Thin and fine hair can gain body with a beer rinse. It leaves no odor, and you don't rinse it out of the hair as you do lemon or vinegar after a shampoo. Since the beer has to be stale, leave it uncapped and standing for at least 24 hours before using. Tomorrow: Blackhead Problems. (Copyright 1957, John F. Dille Co.)

The next time you are using chopped pecans, walnuts or almonds in a recipe or as a topping, soak them first for an hour in sherry, either a dry fino or nutty oloroso, to bring out the flavor of the nutmeats.

Perry Pie Gives Meals New Look

The new look in desserts comes this summer with Perry Pie. Fresh berry pies, especially blueberry pie, add the finishing touch to light summer meals.

Blueberry pie is the perfect prescription for exhibiting seasonal culinary talents. Make it and just see if the family doesn't agree that it rates many performances.

Use lard in preparing pastry and all baked products. Not only is it an economy buy, but lard has greater shortening power and excellent workable qualities.

Blueberry Pie

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
¾ cup lard
4 to 6 tablespoons cold water
Add all to flour. Cut lard into flour mixture until crumbs are about the size of small peas. Add cold water, a little at a time, mixing quickly and evenly with a fork until dough just holds in a ball. Divide pastry in half. Roll to about ¼ inch in thickness. Line 9-inch pie pan. Add Blueberry Filling. Roll out remaining pastry, make several slits to allow for escape of steam, and place over filling. Allow top crust to overlap lower crust. Fold top crust under lower crust. Crimp edges. Bake in a hot oven (425° F.) for 35 minutes.

Blueberry Filling

3 cups fresh blueberries
1 cup sugar
¼ cup cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Mix sugar, cornstarch, salt and lemon juice. Combine with berries. (Fill 9-inch pastry-lined pie pan.) Dot with butter or margarine.

Salade Fatigue (Tired Salad)

Make four to six hours before serving. This "tired salad" saves on-the-spot hostess time, fits in with the do-it-the-easy-way motif of the meal.

1 head iceberg lettuce
1 large onion
1 small bunch watercress
1 lb. tomatoes
3 stalks celery
3 hard cooked eggs
Some anchovy fillets
Salt
Pepper
Mustard
Vinegar, to dampen
Salad oil, to dampen
1 cucumber

Mix dry, the lettuce, onion, watercress, tomatoes, celery, eggs, anchovy fillets, cucumber, then toss. Add dressing in oil, vinegar, pinch of mustard, salt and pepper. Put on bottom shelf of refrigerator and serve four to six hours later when it is reasonably limp and the dressing has permeated the salad completely. Be careful with oil and vinegar using sparing amounts as you toss salad. Rub bowl with garlic as wished.

Whenever you plan to use raisins in cooking or in a dessert, try soaking them for an hour or so in sherry, either a medium amontillado type or sweet oloroso, using just enough wine to cover.

Harvey Haddix Beats Cubs, 7-2

Granny Hamner Hits Bases-Loaded Triple

CHICAGO, June 20 (AP)—Granny Hamner's bases-loaded triple and Harvey Haddix' steady pitching and timely hitting gave the Philadelphia Phils a 7-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs today.

Hamner's big blow came in a four-run Phil sixth in which Haddix spanked his second single to drive across his second run of the game. Haddix led off the eighth with his third straight single which was wasted.

Haddix struck out seven and walked one as he notched his fifth victory against four defeats by scattering seven hits.

Peskin's Cops 3rd In Row As Showers Outduels Hess, 1-0

Peskin's Shoe Store softball aggregation scored a run in the first inning yesterday and that was enough to defeat Post's Play-ground in a Rec League game at Post Field by the score of 1-0.

Fritz Showers was returned the winner over Gene Hess, of no-run, no-hit fame, when Ronnie Phillips singled, advanced to third on Manager Wes Abrams' base walk and came home on John Teter's fielder's choice.

Showers garnered two of his team's four hits and Ronnie Phillips featured in centerfield with a nice running catch. R. Lewis' double was among Post's four safeties.

The win was the third in a row for Peskin's and made the record of the Shoemans 3-4 for the season.

Rallying for seven runs in the fourth inning, the South End Merchants trounced Western Maryland Railway at Campobello by the score of 10-2.

Paul Fisher limited the rail-roads to four hits and fanned 10 while the winners collected eight safeties. Jim Harris and Dave Wright collected three and two hits, respectively. The fielding stars were Jim Leamon of South End and Salvato of Western Maryland.

Red Sox Edge Cleveland, 9-7

BOSTON, June 20 (AP)—Bantam Bill Kinsler helped Boston right-hander Dave Sisker nail down a 9-7 victory today over his "cousins," the Cleveland Indians. But the Red Sox had to use three relief men to halt a three-run Tribe uprising in the ninth inning.

With runners on the second and third, Rudy Minarcin fanned the dangerous Al Smith to end the game.

Elliott Blanks Celanese, 6-0; Outdoor Notches 10th In Row

Vets Win On Homer By Comer; Ritter's And Elks Victors

ROCKING CHAIR LEAGUE
Outdoor Club 10 0 K. of C. 4 6

"Pete" Elliott notched his 10th victory of the campaign and the Outdoor Club registered its 10th consecutive Rocking Chair Softball League victory by turning back Celanese yesterday on the latter's field by the score of 6-0.

It marked the fourth time this season that an ODC pitcher had performed a whitewash job and it was the second time Elliott yielded only four hits.

Two being credited to Cunningham, "Butch" Johnson and Ted Durbin rapped a double and single each for the league leaders and the latter made two nice catches in center field.

Jim Gaffney, making his first start on the rubber this season, twirled the B.P.O. Elks to an 11-7 decision over the Knights of Columbus at Fort Hill Field. Each team collected eight hits.

Bob Price hammered a triple and single and Bob McGreevy and Norman Geatz collected two singles each for the victory while Johnny Cox and Roy Manges featured afield. Nick Natale and Don Harden excelled afield for the Knights.

Fred's Homer Decides Comer's, first up in the 7th.

Smashed a home run to give Manager Shircliffe's V.F.W. tossers a 6-5 win over Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company at Sutcher Field.

Al Sheetz gained the verdict over Bill Thompson in this game. Jack Martin, Phil Reuschel and Comer shared six of the Vets' nine safeties. Billy Frye's running catch of a line drive from the bat of Harbaugh to right field in the 7th frame was the fielding gem. Ronnie Ingram and "Like" Cessna had two hits each for the Glassties and Lawrence played a bangup game at second base yesterday on the latter's field by the score of 6-0.

Ritter's Social Club broke a three-game losing streak and moved out of the league base, by trimming the Loyal Order of Moose's 5th Avenue

Field, 3-1. Russ Miller's 5-hit pitching and the hitting of John Yaider and "Skunk" Zimmerman highlighted Ritter's victory. Bill Miles was outstanding at first base and Miller made several nice stops on the mound.

Orioles	7	4
Cresaptown	5	6
Ellerslie	3	8

Five home runs, including a pair by Joe Brewer, and Jim Klahre's ninth of the season highlighted an 18-hit barrage as Ellerslie shook a 5-game losing streak by walloping the LaVale Orioles in a Pen-Mar Little League game yesterday at Parkside Field by the score of 21-7.

Jim Lowery and Tom Connor hit the other round-trippers for the winners. Klahre rapped a pair of doubles in addition to his 4-bagger. Jim Lowery had four hits and Brewer three. George Connor held the Orioles to six safeties, including a circuit belt by Comer.

John Smith was the "big gun" as Barrelville rolled to its 10th consecutive victory over the Cresaptown Eagles, 6-2, behind the two-hit twirling of Don Engle who posted his 5th win for the undefeated league leaders.

Smith battled in five runs with homers in the second and fifth innings, the second being a grand slam wallop. Vandenberg batted in both of the Eagles' runs in the second with a timely single. Twenty-five hits were recorded in the game at Cresaptown where the LaVale Maroons outslugger the D. A. V. 17-13. Redden of LaVale and Miller of the D. A. V. paced the sluggers with three hits each. Hinkle posted his first win after three reverses.

Kiwanis Trims Exchange, 17-7

Slamming the offerings of three platters for hits, the Kiwanis Club ran roughshod over the Exchange Club in a Hot Stove Baseball League game last night at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 17-7. The 10:30 curfew brought a halt to hostilities after five complete innings.

Five pitchers saw action in the wild affair. "Butch" Broterparker got the win and Carl Puffenberg was the loser.

Charley Boone hit a bases loaded homer, a double and single. Charles Clark had a homer and two singles. Charley Abell a homer and triple. Gary Henry three one-base knocks. John Price a pair of two-baggers and Mike Hadra a double and single. Smith smacked a two-run double for Exchange and Bobby Leatherman collected two hits. Broterparker and Boone fanned 11. Score:

Giants Triumph 4-3 On Antonelli's Fly

MILWAUKEE, June 20 (AP)—The New York Giants took a 12-inning 4-3 victory over Milwaukee today to knock the Braves out of first place in the National League.

The sizzling St. Louis Cardinals, winners of 13 of their last 16 starts, moved into the top spot in the senior circuit by three percentage points, with a 33-24 record to Milwaukee's 34-25.

First baseman Gail Harris, in the ninth inning, led off the top of the 12th with a triple to the fence in right center and scored the winning run on pitcher Johnny Antonelli's sacrifice fly to center.

Work Starts On Doors At Court House

Workmen of the George Construction Company yesterday removed the wooden door framing at the Court House entrance to prepare for the installation of plate glass doors in aluminum framing.

The Allegany County Commissioners decided to replace the old wooden frame doors several weeks ago after several persons had their fingers and hands injured while using the cumbersome doors.

The new plate glass and aluminum doors will not only provide safety, but will also admit more light to the main floor hallway.

Play Institute To Close Today

Leaders who will open the city's playgrounds Monday morning will get their final briefing on the program today.

Final plans for the playground season will be given as the three-day institute closes with instruction in dancing, music and games.

Mrs. Eva Hogan, general supervisor, said the playgrounds this year have a splendid staff developed enough to merit the committee's consideration.

The Library of Congress has a collection of every comic book copyright in the United States.

would advise us if they should have a continuing interest in Cumberland.

Promotion Program Set — With none of these have correspondence and negotiations to date produced situations requiring policy decisions of the industrial promotion committee. In at least two cases, it is hoped that the firm's ideas as to what it becomes well acquainted with the firm's wants and requires will soon have area from the standpoint of industrial sites and potential sites.

More detailed site data and information will be developed and analyzed. Financial requirements of the program have been carefully analyzed. In this consideration, past experience and expenditures have been given due weight. The budget being proposed to the trustees of the industrial promotion fund for the last half of this year totals $11,178.

chure materials used to answer inquiries has been checked for accuracy and currency, and these materials will be revised and amplified.

"The file on buildings available in the area has been checked by contact with the owner or his agent in each case. It was found that a considerable number of them are no longer available."

"The industrial promotion director (Thomas W. Morris) has been well acquainted with the industrial sites and potential sites. More detailed site data and information will be developed and analyzed. # Donald F. Frye Loses Battle Against Polio

Entered Hospital Here On Tuesday

Donald Franklin Frye, 23, died of polio yesterday afternoon in Memorial Hospital. He was the first person to die of polio in Maryland this year.

Mr. Frye, who resided at 133 Arch Street, was admitted to the hospital Tuesday evening suffering from polio of the paralytic type.

He improved slightly Wednesday but grew steadily worse and died at 3:20 p. m. yesterday. He had been sick for about a week before becoming seriously ill Tuesday.

No cases of polio had been recorded for the city or for Allegany County since 1955. Mr. Frye had not received any Salk polio vaccine shots.

A lifelong resident of this city, he was born August 30, 1933, a son of Homer W. and Irene (Mouse) Frye.

He was a graduate of Fort Hill High School, where he played varsity baseball and football. He also was very active in sporting activities in the city.

Mr. Frye was employed as a lineman helper for the Potomac Edison Company. He had served in the Army during the Korean War, and was a member of Kingsley Methodist Church.

Surviving, in addition to his parents, are his widow, Mary Jane (Robb) Frye; two young sons, Gregory Allen and Richard Franklin; two brothers, Homer W. Frye, Salisbury, Md., and Robert Lee Frye, Ridgeley, and a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Meister, city.

The body will remain at the Scarpelli Funeral Home.

Man Killed By Truck In Ohio

A 24-year-old former resident of St. George, W. Va., died Tuesday in Ohio as a result of injuries he sustained when struck by a truck.

Aubrey A. Sturms, of Minerva, Ohio, was repairing a truck alongside a road when he was run over by another truck about 10 a. m. Tuesday. He died shortly afterwards of skull and chest injuries.

Mr. Sturms was an employee of a trucking company in Canton, Ohio, and had been residing in Minerva since 1952.

Born October 21, 1932 at St. George, he was a son of Aubrey L. and Elsie (Phillips) Sturms, St. George.

He was a member of St. George Methodist Church and was a veteran of the Korean War.

Also surviving besides his parents, are his widow, Kathryn (Kibler) Sturms; a son, Barry, at home; seven sisters, Mrs. William O'Neal, Mrs. Jesse Columbus, Mrs. Phillip Six, Mrs. Juanita Barr, and Miss Geraldine Sturms, all of Canton, and Miss Eleanor Sturms and Mrs. Earl Strawderman, both of St. George, and six brothers, Willard, Baltimore; Robert D., Minerva, and Eugene, Forrest, William and Rodney Sturms, all of St. George.

Services will be conducted today in Minerva. Burial will be in Moultrie Cemetery there.

One Grower Votes, Favors Wheat Quota

Only one of ten eligible Allegany County growers voted in yesterday's wheat marketing quota referendum and he balloted in favor of the quotas, according to James H. Weimer, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Members of the committee stayed at the county ASC office, 37 Washington Street, from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m. but only one grower showed up.

If at least two-thirds of the growers voting nationally approve the quotas they will continue in effect for the 1958 wheat crop. A grower who exceeds the larger of his allotment or 15 acres of wheat will be subject to a marketing quota penalty on his "excess" wheat. Under quotas, the available wheat price support to farmers who have complied with their farm wheat allotments will be at a minimum national average of $1.78 a bushel.

Citadel Bible School To Close

Commencement exercises of the vacation Bible school of the Salvation Army Citadel will be held today at 7:30 p. m., according to Capt. Daniel Biggs, commander.

The program will include opening exercises and recitations, exercises and skits from each department.

Daniel Y. Browne, member of the Salvation Army Advisory Board, will present certificates of attendance and an award to the student who brought the most new members to the school.

Members of the Bible School will join with the Citadel's Sunday school in a picnic to be held at the Celanese park Monday at 10 a. m.

35 Boy Scouts Register For 4th Jamboree

National Gathering Set At Valley Forge

The quota of Boy Scouts from Potomac Council who may attend the Fourth National Jamboree next month at Valley Forge, Pa., is nearly full, according to Willis V. Smith, executive secretary.

Mr. Smith said the local council has a quota of 37 boys, so far 35 have signed up to attend the week-long activities that will begin on July 12.

Reservations for the final two openings may be made by contacting Mr. Smith at scout headquarters on Union Street. Cost of the trip, which includes transportation and all meals, is $100.

In charge of the local delegation will be Harry J. Biggs of the Tri-Towns Council. His assistants will be Tim Park, Petersburg, W. Va., and Foster J. Riggs, Mt. Lake Park.

The group from Potomac Council will depart from Cumberland by bus at 8 a. m. on July 9, and return on July 19. The jamboree will close officially on July 18.

It is expected that more than 50,000 scouts from all over the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Canal Zone and Puerto Rico, will attend the national event.

The jamboree site will be on about 1,500 acres of Valley Forge Park, and will consist of 38 sectional camps with a population of 1,400 each. Each camp will have its own health lodge, water supply, shower baths and commissary.

Already completed at the site is a stage 30 feet wide and 100 feet deep in front of a natural amphitheatre that will hold about 55,000 jamboree campers and guests.

Spectacular programs are planned throughout the jamboree. The theme of this year's event will be "Onward for God and My Country." The purpose of the national jamboree is to strengthen the program of the individual unit and provide boys opportunity to be associated with scouts from all parts of the country.

The first jamboree was held in Washington, D. C., in 1937. The other two were held at Valley Forge in 1950, and at Santa Ana, Calif., in 1953.

Pigeon Wins Long Flight

Harold F. from the MacArthur Loft of C. A. Smith won the eighth old bird race of the Allegany Racing Pigeon Club, a 400-mile flight from North Vernon, Ind.

This proved to be a difficult race as only five birds homed the first day. Some 48 birds in ten lofts competed.

Harold F's average speed was 844.5 yards per minute.

Others among the first eight pigeons were Frosty from the Woodland Loft of Irvin Buskirk, 799.63 yards; Karen from North End Loft of Francis Sticher, 793.23 yards; Jazz Bow from Excelsior Loft of M. M. Green, 753.26 yards; Scary from Woodland Loft, 740.19 yards; Sandy's Pal from Town View Loft of Galen Beeman returned second day; Blackie from Homer Buskirk's loft, second day, and Blue Boy from Dudley Shater's Loft, second day.

The next race will be the Capt. J. J. McAttee Memorial from Vincennes, Ind., a distance of 500 miles.

Circuit Court Grants Divorces

Two divorces have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Virginia Lee Swanson Wise obtained a divorce from Kenneth D. Wise and custody of their infant son, Gilbert Moffatt was granted a divorce from Mary M. Moffatt and custody of their three children.

Services Changed

Park Place Methodist Church services will be an hour earlier than usual, effective this Sunday, Rev. Bruce K. Price, pastor, announced yesterday.

Rev. Price said Sunday church school will be at 8:45 a. m., and worship at 10 a. m. There will be no evening devotions.

Learns Of Polio Patient's Death

Lewis J. Ort of LaVale, local bakery operator, learns of the death of Donald F. Frye, 23-year-old polio victim, as he delivers iron lung equipment to Miss Henrietta Lippold, executive secretary for the Allegany County League for Crippled Children yesterday at Municipal Airport. Mr. Ort, flying his own plane on a business trip to New York, learned that additional equipment for the iron lung in which Frye had been placed at Memorial Hospital was to be sent here from Baltimore, and offered to pick it up at Friendship Airport. Mr. Frye, however, died yesterday afternoon. Miss Lippold said the additional equipment will be kept here anyway to facilitate use of the "lung" for possible future polio patients.

Michael Chisholm Wins Firemen's Scholarship

Michael Chisholm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. "Sparky" Chisholm, 305 Beall Street, was awarded a scholarship to the University of Maryland yesterday by the Maryland State Firemen's Association, in convention at Ocean City.

The scholarship, one of two presented for the study of fire protection work and leading to a degree in engineering, is for a four-year period and is valued at $300 per year.

The second winner is Ralph E. Collins III, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Collins Jr., Brentwood, Prince Georges County. Collins is a member of the Brentwood Fire Company and is a graduate of Archbishop Carroll High School, Washington. Both boys are 17.

Chisholm graduated from LaSalle High School in June, where he edited the school paper and was captain of the school's bowling team. He is interested in engineering.

The firemen's scholarship award committee, which made the selection from among a score of competing applicants, was headed by J. Millard Taves and also included Nelson W. Russell, this city, Leonard Duke, Leonardtown, and Russell McCain, Frederick. The committee had as its advisor, John Bryan of the fire extension service of the university.

In other business at yesterday's closing sessions of the three-day annual conclave, the delegates re-elected William A. Wilson of this city and Midland as state treasurer, and agreed to return to Ocean City for next year's conclave.

Barton and Midland fire companies participated in last night's parade, and the Allegany-Garrett Firemen's Association was represented by more than two score members.

At the opening session, Philip H. Beard, association president, recommended that the organization continue its work for the establishment of a separate fire marshal's office in the state. A bill for such a program was defeated by the last General Assembly.

Thomas S. Carr, executive assistant to Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, was a guest speaker and praised the firemen for existing on local support instead of "going to higher levels of government with hats in hand." He said "fire departments are an excellent example of the ability of county and municipal agencies to operate on a high plane."

The new road will go up the east slope of Haystack Mountain, across Sand Flat and down the west slope of the mountain, and then along Braddock Road to the intersection with Winchester Road.

The start of work on the Thruway will be held up for a while, Pritchett said, as the Maryland's 12-year road program is running behind schedule.

This is because costs have risen 32 per cent since the plan was formulated by the State Roads Commission.

This means that it will take about five years to get four years' work done, he explained.

The Thruway is in the second four years of the overall program. The first four years of the plan will be up this fall.

S.A. Board Sets U.F. Budget Bid

The Executive Committee of the Salvation Army Advisory Board yesterday approved a tentative budget request to be submitted to the County United Fund.

A formal request will be made at a later meeting of the Advisory Board, according to Capt. Daniel Biggs, commander of the Salvation Army Citadel.

The Salvation Army, he said, has negotiated most of its agreement with the County United Fund.

Attending yesterday's meeting were Lewis J. Ort, president; Thomas B. Finan, vice president; Albert Macy, treasurer; Adolf Blunk and Woodward D. Pealer, financial committee members, and Capt. Biggs.

McGill Gets Permit For LaVale House

Wallace H. McGill yesterday obtained a permit from the Allegany County assessing department for construction of a dwelling in Election District 2 at LaVale for an estimated $18,000.

The six-room house of concrete construction will be located near the State Police barracks.

Six-Point Plan For Industrial Growth Slated

Over 2,500 Firms Will Be Contacted

A six-point plan of industrial promotion concentrated on light metal working, electronics, chemicals, plastics and textiles was adopted last night by the board of directors of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

These industries, the Chamber said, can generally be accommodated by the resources of the Cumberland area.

The board's action was based on a report by the Chamber's industrial promotion committee, which recommended adoption of the program.

The committee also reported to the Chamber on recent activities of the industrial promotion department. It said that while negotiations are under way with current prospects "a sound basis is being laid for a promotional program with purpose and direction."

The six-point industrial promotion program includes:

1. Preparation of a complete card file of manufacturers generally engaged in the light metal working, electronics, chemical, plastic and textile fields.

The industries being catalogued are those with capital of over $100,000. They will be grouped geographically, and the operating histories and growth potential of each of the some 2,500 firms will be determined.

2. The plan is to concentrate on one geographical area at a time and to direct a series of letters to officials of the firms, each stressing a feature of the Cumberland area and inviting inquiries for further information.

3. The first letter of the series will conclude with the information that the industrial promotion director will visit the locality of the firm at specified date or dates, and requesting an opportunity to call on the firm.

By concentrating on one locality at a time, it is expected that an effective use of travel funds will be realized, the Chamber said.

4. When leads developed have been processed to the point where the resources of the industrial promotion committee and its staff will permit, the procedure will be repeated in other areas.

5. To cultivate good relations with sources of prospect referrals, such as utilities, railroads and the engineering and management firms, the department plans to furnish cooperating agencies with complete reference materials on industrial development facts and data about the Cumberland area.

The reference brochures will be kept up to date, and forwarded to the agencies.

6. A program of informing the public of the plan of action and the requirements of sound industrial development will be initiated.

Business climate—the sum of the attitudes of all elements of the community—has become an increasingly important factor in an industry's choice of a site, the Chamber said.

In a report to the Chamber, the industrial promotion department said it has been engaged, in recent months, with a number of prospects, adding:

"These include a cosmetics firm, two clothing makers, a boat manufacturer, a steel fabricator, a glass products company, a dye works, a chemicals and metal processor, a label weaver, a printer of periodicals and agents of two firms that were seeking large warehouses."

"A number of these have been brought to our attention by the Potomac Edison Company's Area Development Department. Others resulted from referrals by the Maryland Planning Commission and from direct inquiries of the Chamber. A response to a Wall Street Journal advertisement produced another."

"Two of these prospects have visited the area after preliminary correspondence outlining the area's assets. One of these, the printing firm, has since advised that it has decided to locate in another community whose resources fit its particular needs better than ours. The other, the steel fabricator, is still much interested and is currently preparing a more detailed appraisal of its needs."

Could Not Qualify

"The two firms seeking warehouse space were looking for tax concessions, also. They are ineligible for the tax exemption that can be granted to new manufacturers and have lost interest in this location."

"During the preparation of informative materials for one of the clothing manufacturers, the management of the firm decided to postpone its expansion plans. The brochure has been presented to the prospect by the West Penn Electric Company anyway against the event of a reversal of the postponement."

"The last word from the chemicals and metals processor, a West Coast firm, was that it was considering another location and was not ready to make a final decision."

AWARDED DEGREE—Howard B. Frankenberg, 126 Winchester Road, Cresapton, received an associate in applied sciences degree in management at the Fashion Institute of Technology under a program of the State University of New York June 13. He will resume his position as time an motion study engineer with Cumberland Undergarment Company and associated firms, and will assist in production and quality control work.

Field Day Planned By Radio Club

Emergency Station Will Be Set Up

Members of the Mountain Amateur Radio Club will take to the hills this weekend for the annual field day sponsored by the American Radio Relay League.

The field day is a nationwide test of communications equipment under simulated emergency conditions and using emergency power.

Some 150,000 licensed amateur radio operators will participate in the outing.

The club composed of area radio hams will use the club's call, W3YMW, in the test.

They will transport their equipment and supplies to Martin's Hill in nearby Pennsylvania, where they will set up stations which will be operated continuously from Saturday at 3 p. m. until Sunday afternoon.

Some 15 members of the club will participate in the field test. Officers are John B. White, president; Dr. Leland B. Ransom, vice president; Robert Weisman, treasurer, and E. D. Harvey, secretary.

Governor McKeldin recently proclaimed the week of June 16-23 as Amateur Radio Week in Maryland in recognition of the work of amateur radio operators.

Radio "hams" he said, are an indispensable part of the communications network established for Civil Defense.

Sheriff Probes Rifle Damage In Bowling Green

Sheriff Edward R. Muir reported yesterday receipt of a complaint that boys in Bowling Green have been shooting windows out of garages and a house on McMullen Highway and on A Street. Although the report came to him only yesterday, he was informed that the incidents had occurred earlier in the week. The sheriff warned that anyone caught shooting a rifle in the area will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Euonymus Scale Impairs Plants

Usefulness of many varieties of Euonymus and bittersweet used in ornamental landscape work is impaired by the presence of a scale insect known as the Euonymus scales, according to Theodore L. Bissell, entomologist at the University of Maryland.

Female scales are brown and are concentrated on the stems. The males are smaller and white. Usually the males greatly outnumber the females so that the general appearance of an infestation is white. The immature scales or crawlers appear as golden specks on the leaves.

Mr. Bissell reports that persistent and thorough spraying is necessary for control of the Euonymus scale. Summer sprays are designed to kill the crawlers or newly-hatched scales. Either DDT or malathion may be used in the summer. For the 25-gallon sprayer the owner should use either one pint of 25 per cent emulsifiable DDT, or one-half pint of 50 per cent malathion.

For the two-and-one-half-gallon sprayer two fluid ounces of DDT or one fluid ounce of malathion should be used.

Junked Cars Ignite

South End Fire Company was called to Miller's auto company on Ford Avenue last night after several junked cars caught fire. Firemen said one of the cars caught fire from undetermined causes and spread to several others. Firemen quenched the blazes with water from a booster tank.

Tax Limitation Petition Count Is Completed

2,200 Names, Places Same As On Rolls

The verification of petitions calling for a vote on a proposal to boost the city's tax limitation was completed yesterday.

It showed that 2,200 of the 5,002 signers of referendum bids used names and addresses which were identical with registration records, according to Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk.

A formal report on the count was being prepared yesterday afternoon by Mr. Ullery for submission to the Mayor and Council.

1,197 Not Registered

It will show that 1,197 of the signers were not registered voters and that there were 101 duplicate signatures.

Another 952 petitioners signed names exactly as found on registration rolls but used different addresses.

It is from this list of 952 that the rest of the 352 names necessary for a petition call may be found.

Under home rule, the referendum must be held if it is requested by 20 per cent of the city's qualified voters.

Mr. Ullery said 2,552 signers would be needed, based on the April 30 registration total of 12,758.

He said the Registration Office count also disclosed that 552 names found on the petitions fell in 15 other categories.

Say Power Needed

The petition count was started June 4 by Mrs. Ruth Mangus, registration clerk, assisted by Mrs. Edna Powers and Mrs. Margaret Mangus.

The petitions were submitted to call for a referendum on a charter amendment proposed by the Mayor and Council to increase the tax limit for operating expenses from $1.25 to $1.50. City officials stress that the action is not a tax increase but that the additional taxing power is needed as a "buffer" since the city this year operated within a few mills of its tax limit.

Kiwanians Get Service Awards

Twelve members of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club yesterday received legion of honor certificates and lapel pins for having completed 30 years of continuous membership in the club which this month marks its 33d anniversary.

Five of the 12 were recognized as charter members of the Kiwanis Club. They included D. Lindley Sloan, first president of the club; Alex R. Buchanan, Frank V. Carpenter, Harold W. Smith and William J. Edwards. Wylie M. Faw Sr., another charter member of the club, also received special recognition.

Others present to receive 30-year awards were Irving Rosenbaum, Douglas R. Bowie and William M. Somerville. Other 30-year members not present to receive their awards were Robert S. Barnes, Fred Flurschtz, Robert W. Kifer and Dr. Charles L. Owens. A 25-year award went to George L. Buchanan.

Judge Sloan, who was the club's president in 1924 and 1925, made a brief talk in which he singled out three specific contributions of the Kiwanis Club to the community. He said the idea for the Community Chest originated with the Kiwanis Club and was the joint undertaking of Kiwanis and Rotary clubs. He also asserted that work with crippled children which resulted in formation of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children started with Kiwanians.

Finally, he discussed Sunshine Camp, which for the last 15 years has provided some 50 deserving youngsters a two-week vacation on MacDonald Terrace at no expense to them each summer.

Births

Tech Sgt. and Mrs. Kermit Sites announce the birth of a son on June 9 in Germany. The mother is the former Miss Shirley Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Eva Thompson, 730 Maryland Avenue, and the late Harley Thompson. The father, stationed with the Air Force there, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Sites, Arch Street.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Blaine Fitzgerald, Chevy Chase, announce the birth of a daughter in Georgetown Hospital. The mother is the former Miss Helen Bender, daughter of Mrs. Sue Bender, 401 Cumberland Street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Yutzyn, Connellsville, Pa., announce the birth of a son Tuesday at Cottage State Hospital there. The mother is the former Miss Lucy J. Clark, daughter of Mrs. John Clark, Bedford Road.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Speicher, Grantsville, a son yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald D. Shaffer, Ellerslie, a daughter Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Proudfoot, 931 Grand Avenue, a daughter June 15.
